Fair Trade Practices Amendment

Five Pct. Mark-Up Will Apply to Prices At Decontrol Level

Fair trade practices regulations in Alberta will be altered to allow prices to go down, Premier Ernest Manning announced today the regulations will be changed by order-in-council.

The five per cent mark-up demanded by the regulations will in future apply to wholesale prices as they stood at time of federal government's decontrol order.

"The minimum five per cent mark-up is reasonable under normal circumstances," said the premier, "but in view of the rise of prices since price controls have been removed, we do not consider it in the public interest that there be any deterrent to lower prices to the consumer."

AMEND REGULATIONS

"Accordingly," he continued, "we are amending fair trade practices regulations to make a minimum five per cent mark-up apply only to the established wholesale price prevailing at the time of the Dominion government's general decontrol order."

Action was taken following accusation by Liberal leader Harper Prowse Tuesday that the provincial law is bringing about inflationary tendencies because it is now outdated.

Prowse said government officials ordered city stores to mark up the price of butter from 66 to 70 cents per pound.

ACTION EXPLAINED

Premier Manning explained the action complained of was taken when other city merchants said these stores were violating provisions of the regulations.

Violators, he said, were checked as on all routine complaints and Prowse's statement on the floor of the house was the first the government had heard about it.

Sales of Land $16,120 in Day

City land department Wednesday experienced its busiest day in recent months.

Twenty parcels were sold for $16,120, including a site for a $50,000 auto court, locations for 34 houses, estimated to cost $204,000, and two commercial structures.

Anton W. and Stella Linda, 9930 106 street, purchased 14 lots between Stony Plain road, 103 avenue, and 139 and 140 streets as the site of an auto court; the structures to be approved by City Architect Maxwell C. Dewar. Purchase price of property $5,600.

BUYS TEN LOTS

Andy Solikoski, 12504 114 avenue, bought 10 lots in the Inglewood subdivision, four on east side of 124 street north of 117 avenue, and six on west side of 121 street north of the same avenue. Purchase price was $2,420. Ten homes, each costing $6,000, will be erected.

General Builders Ltd., purchased nine lots between 114 and 115 streets north of 108 avenue for $3,600 as sites for nine $7,000 houses. Purchase price $3,467.

INFORMALITY QUASHES CONVICTION

Informality in preparation of depositions of a trial in Edmonton police court proved fatal to a conviction made by Magistrate Chris Pattinson on a gross indecency charge.

Arnold McIntyre, Edson, was successful in his appeal against conviction and three months sentence imposed on a gross indecency charge.

Court of appeal upheld submission of appellant's counsel, J. N. McDonald, KC, that the record failed to show evidence of all witnesses was taken on oath.

Handing down judgment Thursday quashing the conviction appeal court stated "time and again it has been pointed out that jurisdiction of the magistrate must appear on the record. This record does not show evidence was taken on oath as the law requires for a fair and proper trial."

Auto Licenses Out March 15

Alberta 1948-49 auto and truck license plates will go on sale through regular outlets on Monday, March 15, according to announcement from R. C. Arthurs, deputy provincial secretary Thursday.

New plates, which have black figures on an aluminum background will be supplied in pairs and motorists are warned they will need both front and rear license plate brackets. Autos carried only one plate during war years, due to shortages of metal.

The deputy provincial secretary stressed while application forms are being mailed out the current license holders to be in the hands of motorists by Friday, no plates will be sold until Monday.

An extra dollar, in addition to regular license charges will again be assessed this year under terms of Alberta's car "insurance" act, the Automobile Accident Indemnity Act. This is the second time motorists have been charged the extra fee.

It is predicted coverage given to accident victims will be increased this year by amending legislation to be introduced during this session.

'PEG WEATHER 68-YEAR RECORD

WINNIPEG, March 11.—(CP)—Temperature dropped to 33.2 below zero in Winnipeg yesterday, making it the coldest March 10 in 68 years. Records showed on March 10, 1880, the temperature had dropped to 38.1 degrees below zero.

CALGARY, March 11.—(CP)—Inquest into the death of six Canadian National Railway employes killed in a collision between a railway snow plow and a yard engine near the Hanna station last Feb. 29, will open here Friday afternoon, it was learned yesterday.

CHURCHILL GUARDED IN MURDER THREAT

LONDON, March 11.—(BUP)—Scotland Yard put a special guard on Winston Churchill today after an anonymous telephone call to police warned that Churchill would be "murdered at mid-day."

A spokesman indicated police believed the call was made by a crank. He said that "adequate precautions" have been taken to guard the former prime minister's life.

The warning was received at 8 p.m. yesterday by police at Southampton, 80 miles southwest of London. The caller asked to speak to "someone in authority."

"I want to warn you that Mr. Churchill will be murdered at mid-day tomorrow," the caller said when an officer took the phone.

Mid-day passed and there was no sign of anything untoward. A spokesman for the Yard said the precaution would be maintained for the time being.

Gerhart Quibbling, Is Charge

UMWA Official Says Organization Bargaining Agent

Hon. C. E. Gerhart was "quibbling" in his statement Wednesday concerning bargaining agent rights of United Mine Workers of America, T. A. McCloy, district representative of UMWA, charged in a statement issued Thursday.

McCloy expressed surprise that Gerhart would make such a statement while application for certification of a bargaining agent was still under consideration by board of industrial relations.

Gerhart was reported as saying UMWA has been acting in a bargaining capacity "without proper authority for such action."

AWAIT DECISION

Thursday Gerhart, as minister of trade and industry, said nomination of a new bargaining agent to replace UMWA at Star-Key and other Edmonton district mines must await decision of board of industrial relation.

The minister said efforts would be made to make certain the new bargaining agent is not an employer-sponsored group. Decision is expected Monday or Tuesday.

McCloy pointed out in his statement UMWA has represented interests of all mine workers in major Edmonton mines for the past 19 years.

STRIKE IS BLAMED

UMWA representative blames continuance of strike of 550 miners in Edmonton field on non-acceptance by district operators of a $2 per day wage increase to miners awarded by an arbitration board.

Mine operators representative on the board was appointed by Gerhart, the UMWA representative states. He further contends practically every mine worker in Edmonton area is a member of UMWA and the organization is continuing to act on their behalf as a result.

Asked to comment on statement of UMWA representative, J. B. Starky, president of the local mine operators' association, said "McCloy's statement vindicates my opinion of his judgment."

UMWA, according to Starky, was never appointed bargaining agent under the Alberta Labor Act. It is another example, he said, of the union taking the law into its own hands.

ONLY AT STAR-KEY

The application for recognition of a new bargaining organization applies only to miners in Star-Key mine, according to Starky. He expects a vote of miners shortly authorizing newly-formed organization as bargaining agent.

Missing Documents Leave Hong Kong Rift Unsettled

By Ross Munro

OTTAWA, March 11.—(CP)—Absence of five secret British dispatches from the 1,000,000 words of evidence and exhibits of the 1942 Hong Kong inquiry tabled in the Commons yesterday leaves the Hong Kong controversy still vaguely unsettled.

The royal commission report found the Japs had mistreated Hong Kong civilians while Col. Drew charged they were "hopelessly untrained for war."

MOTION REJECTED

After the voluminous documents were tabled, the Commons rejected a Progressive Conservative motion, by a vote of 146 to 61, that all correspondence between the British and Canadian governments on Hong Kong be tabled. CCF and Social Credit members generally supported the government.

The tabling was the latest move in the prolonged controversy over Canada's Far East operations, in which the two battalions were lost in the December, 1941, onslaught by the Japanese.

The exhibits included a series of telegrams from Canadian military headquarters, London, forwarding intelligence information to Ottawa from British sources, showing that the concensus at the time was against expecting war in the Far East.

CMHQ also felt that if Japan did go to war she would strike northward against Russia rather than south against garrisons such as Hong Kong.

RELEVANT DOCUMENT

The only relevant document tabled, dated Oct. 24, 1941—when Col. Drew said the prime minister received the explicit warning of war—is a British admiralty message to the British commander-in-chief China reading:

"In view of altered circumstances request you will provide cruiser escort Awatea' from Manila to Hong Kong."

The two Canadian battalions were aboard this ship.

A notation on the document indicated that a copy of this mes-

Newfoundlanders to Vote On Union With Dominion

People of Colony Have Three Choices

ST. JOHN's Nfld., March 11.—(CP)—Choice of confederation with Canada was offered the people of Newfoundland today when the contents were disclosed of the official ballot for a national referendum which will decide the old colony's political future. Announced simultaneously in London and here, the ballot will offer the following choices:

1. Retention of the present government by commission.
2. Return of responsible self-government.
3. Confederation with Canada.

The national convention, elected in June, 1946, to recommend possible future forms of government and dissolved last Jan. 31, suggested to the commonwealth relations office in London that the ballot offer a choice of retention of commission government or the return of responsible self-government.

By a 29-16 vote the convention turned down a resolution that confederation with Canada also be included on the ballot. The minority vote, however, was noted in the report to the British government.

VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN

Since then the pro-confederation bloc at the convention, led by Joseph Smallwood, has waged a vigorous campaign to have union with Canada included.

He has announced that petitions, signed by more than 50,000 of the island's 330,000 population, had been received asking that confederation be included in the referendum. These had been forwarded to London.

At the same time, the campaign of the anti-confederationists was almost as vigorous and the Responsible Government League used radio and pamphlets to advocate a return to that form of government lost after the financial debacle of 1933.

The 45-member national convention had power only to make recommendations to the British government and though confederation was excluded from its submission, observers generally conceded it might be inserted in the referendum.

Settler Salutes Free Canada

EXPERIENCED MINERS FOR YUKON

Happy Lett Among DP's To Make Home in Canada

By JACK DeLONG

It required less than two weeks to convince Stanislaus Steinberg, husky 30-year-old Lett, that Canada is a country "where a man can be free."

Spokesman for a group of 15 fellow countrymen from the former republic of Latvia, Steinberg was with 20 European displaced persons, pausing briefly in Edmonton Thursday, enroute to Mayo, Yukon Territory to work in a silver mine.

Typical of other members of the DP group Steinberg was placed in a hard labor camp by Germans after Nazis invaded his country in 1941.

He suffered many privations before being liberated by the American Army in 1945.

With Latvia now a Soviet satellite, Steinberg was unable to get home through the iron curtain. He has not heard from his parents since 1941.

He doesn't want to return home as long as his country is dominated by Communists.

"I am most happy to be in Canada," he said in surprisingly good English.

"I had heard so much that was good about Canada. Now I know it was all true. This is a country where a man can really be free," he added.

With 15 Letts were two Ukrainians and three Poles. All are experienced miners. They will be employed in the Yukon by Keno Hill Silver Mining Co.

The DP's left on a Canadian Pacific Airlines plane for the north early Thursday afternoon. They left Europe about two weeks ago.

Britain Cancels Levy on U.S. Films

LONDON, March 11.—(CP)—The government today withdrew its much-criticized 75 per cent duty on United States film earnings in Britain and made way for a quick resumption of the normal import of films from Hollywood.

Harold Wilson, president of the board of trade, made the announcement in the House of Commons after reaching an agreement with a delegation of Hollywood producers led by Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America.

Wilson said the 75-per-cent tax "would be withdrawn as quickly as the necessary order could be made" and that export of American films to Britain will "resume as soon as possible."

The new agreement, effective June 14, will run four years, but be subject to review after two years. For the first two years the United States producers may take home $17,000,000 a year of their earnings from American films shown here. In addition they may withdraw dollars equal to British film's earnings in the United States.

MILD WEATHER AHEAD FOR CITY

Warmer weather is in store for Edmontonians today and tomorrow with the mercury expected to climb well above the freezing point both days.

For the first time in close to a week, temperature failed to go below zero in Edmonton and today it was expected to climb to 35 above. Overnight low was one above.

Forecast is for milder weather with light winds.

At Least 9 Women Perish in Blaze

ASHEVILLE, N.C., March 11.—(AP)—At least nine women died early this morning in a fire that swept through the central building of the Highland mental hospital here.

There were 29 patients in the building.

Several patients were burned and were given emergency treatment.

The flames were discovered shortly after midnight and quickly spread over the two-storey structure.

Every available fireman in Asheville was called to the scene to aid in rescuing the patients and to fight the flames. The walls of the building were reported crumbling.

The hospital plant, comprising several large buildings, was operated as a unit of Duke University in Durham.

U.K. By-Election Closely Watched

THORNTON HEATH, Surrey, England, March 11.—(CP)—An ace airman, a company director and a veteran of political strife will watch the polling today after beating their arches flat in a door-to-door marathon in the North Croydon by-election.

Air Vice-Marshall Donald Bennett, 37, a Liberal, Fred Harris, 33, Conservative business man, and Harold Nicholson 61, veteran diplomat, Labor writer and a governor of the BBC, are contestants in what has been nicknamed "Operation Door Knocker" in this middle-class residential district.

On the eve of the by-election, the respective party managers still were dubious. Their main anxiety is over 12,000 voters who have reached voting age or moved into the district since 1945 when H. U. Willink, a Conservative was elected with a majority of 607 votes over a Labor candidate. Willink recently retired to take a university post.

Twelve of Thirteen Die in Plane Crash

CHICAGO, March 11.—(AP)—A Delta Airlines DC-4 plane crashed and burned explosively late last night a few seconds after it took off from Chicago's municipal airport. Twelve of the 13 aboard were killed.

The only survivor was a 33-year-old mother whose seven-year-old son perished in the fiery wreckage. She screamed hysterically for her child as she was pulled from the flames.

The woman, Mrs. Tripolino Neo, of suburban Oak Law, ill., suffered severe burns. Both of her legs and both of her arms were broken.

The plane, bound for Miami, splashed into a cornfield in a flaming mass on a nearby prairie at 10:58 p.m. CST from a height of between 500 and 1,000 feet during a snow flurry, witnesses said.

It was Delta's first accident in scheduled operations since 1934. Last year the airlines received a special citation from the National Safety Council.

"Something went wrong" and the huge craft caught fire when only a few feet above the runway, Delta's district traffic manager said.

Among the identified dead were two Chicago brothers on their way to the bedside of their father, near death in Miami Beach, Fla. The two were Harold Levy, 47, prominent criminal lawyer, and Ralph Raymond Levy, 41, an insurance broker.

The plane had a capacity of 44 passengers. At least two persons who had reservations for the flight cancelled them shortly before it left.

The plane burned fiercely for more than an hour. Some of the bodies pulled out by firemen were burned or mangled beyond immediate recognition.

CAME STRAIGHT DOWN

A witness said the plane "came straight down in a vertical dive and splattered and exploded on the ground."

Flames shot up 50 feet as the plane flopped to earth "like a pancake," said another witness.

Oil Blow-Off Loss $50,000

Damage to farm lands and loss of oil in blow-out at Atlantic Leduc No. 3 may total $50,000. An estimated $25,000 in oil was lost during the period in which the well was out of control. It is expected damage to farm lands may reach an additional $25,000.

Several farmers will file claims against the company, it is reported.

No appreciable damage to the field itself is expected to result from Monday's blow-off.

Oil men attribute saving the field to success of first attempt to kill the blow.

NEW TROUBLE

Possibility of a section of drill pipe being stuck in the hole is now concerning contractors.

Efforts to remove it will begin today.

Damage to the surrounding farm lands may be reduced by bulldozers which are now scraping oil-soaked snow into sumps.

FRENCH IS USED FOR EMPHASIS

To add emphasis to a quotation from Sir Wilfrid Laurier, which he was using to support his argument during a heated debate in the legislature, Hon. Lucien Maynard, KC, read the quotation in the French language.

It is not known how many government back-benchers know that tongue, but many of them laughed when one of their number shouted what may have been his entire French vocabulary in agreement. The word was "Oui." Others simply called "Agreed ...".

Prices Probers Lash Bread Firm

Company Admits Big Profits But Loses on One Product

By John Leblanc

OTTAWA, March 11.—(CP)—Liberal members of the Commons price committee delivered a verbal lashing yesterday to a bread company, claiming it failed to reduce prices when profits were high but quickly passed on to the public a "slight" loss that developed in one type of bread.

In the most outspoken criticism of any firm appearing before the committee in a month, several members rawbided Christie's Bread, Ltd., of Toronto, for launching a one-cent increase in the wholesale price of its standard loaf in late January.

Evidence indicated that Christie's was the first Toronto bakery to undertake this increase, which was followed by a general jump in the retail price from 13 to 14 cents.

During a round of critical cross-examination on the action, witnesses for the United States-owned firm admitted it was enjoying a good profit on its over-all operations at the time but said it was losing 58 cents per 1,000 loaves on its standard unit.

Health Minister Martin, committee chairman, and R. H. Winters, L., Queens-Lunenburg) launched the hardest attacks against the price-increase policy—declaring the company explanation was not going to allay public "suspicion"—and they were joined by Ralph Maybank, Mr. Martin's parliamentary assistant, and Jean Lesage (L., Montmagny-L'Islet).

Under fire in the session were Daniel E. Wilson, Christie's president, and Lloyd I. Stunner, vice-president, both of Toronto. They underwent a grilling almost solely on the January rise for most of the 1½-hour sitting.

The letter was written Nov. 15, 1941, while the Hong Kong force was still at sea.

It said: "The ship (Awatea) was due to leave Vancouver at 1800 hours, and was prepared ready to do so at that time. For no apparently adequate reason, the embarkation officer ordered her to be held until 2100 hours.

"The men's supper had been particularly slow in the serving and their sleeping accommodation was much overcrowded. The delay gave them time to think of their discomfort.

"Some 30 or 40 men determined to break ship. They were, however, restrained, force being necessary at one period t· lo this."

NEW TAXICABS FLOOD NEW YORK

NEW YORK, March 11.—(AP)—So many shiny new taxicabs have been arriving in New York that new cabs on the streets outnumber the battered pre-war models by more than two to one, the police taxi bureau estimates.

Deliveries of 7,450 new cabs have been made here in the last year. A total of 11,089 cabs were on the streets Tuesday, with another 725 laid up.

Hong Kong Troops Tried Break Ship

OTTAWA, March 11.—(CP)—Some 30 to 40 men attempted to break ship on the eve of the Hong Kong expedition sailing from Vancouver, it was disclosed in a letter written by the expedition commander, Brig. J. K. Lawson, to the chief of the general staff in Ottawa, tabled in the House of Commons yesterday. Force was necessary to restrain them.

The letter was written Nov. 15, 1941, while the Hong Kong force was still at sea.

It said: "The ship (Awatea) was due to leave Vancouver at 1800 hours, and was prepared ready to do so at that time. For no apparently adequate reason, the embarkation officer ordered her to be held until 2100 hours.

A district court jury Feb. 17 convicted the husky farm youth of second degree murder in the death of pretty Arlene Mott, 16, last Nov. 13. The state contended he strangled the girl because "she wanted to get married and he didn't."

Explanation Asked On Korea Walkout

OTTAWA, March 11.—(CP)—External Affairs Minister St. Laurent said yesterday he had asked Dr. George Patterson for comment on newspaper reports he walked out of a meeting Tuesday in Seoul, Korea, where he is representing Canada on the temporary commission on Korea.

Replying to Gordon Graydon (PC, Peel), Mr. Laurent said he would communicate Dr. Patterson's reply to the Commons as soon as possible. Dr. Patterson had not been given any instructions to walk out.

The minister recalled how Canada had opposed at the United Nations the efforts of the United States to have elections held in May in South Korea only. Russian troops still are occupying North Korea and are opposed to elections in that area.

Canada took the view that an election in one section of the country only, would have the effect of partitioning Korea and this would lead to further trouble.

Wheat Agreement Ratification Due By Next July 1

OTTAWA, March 11.—(CP)—The five-year international wheat agreement drawn up at Washington by 36 importing and exporting countries is subject to formal acceptance by those governments by July 1, Trade Minister Howe said today in the commons.

Tabling a copy of the agreement, which presumably will be submitted to parliament for ratification, Mr. Howe said that 15 governments, including Canada, had authorized their representatives to sign March 6.

The remaining 21, including Australia, still are awaiting instructions from their governments to sign and this authorization is expected before April 1, the date by which this must be done.

Commons Members Seek Protection

OTTAWA, March 11.—(CP)—Justice Minister Ilsley in the Commons yesterday promised to consider amending the appropriate statute to prevent members of parliament from being unseated through their acceptance of expenses from the CBC for participation, in its radio broadcasts.

sage had been sent to Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

These dispatches from the United Kingdom government on the general political situation in the Far East are being kept secret on Britain's request.

But they are the key to a focal point on the Hong Kong dispute—Did the Canadian government know that war was imminent in the Far East before the Canadian expedition sailed on Oct. 27, 1941?

The evidence and exhibits of the royal commission inquiry into the dispatch of the two-battalion Canadian force do not in themselves show that the Caandian government received any clear-cut warning that war with Japan was an early possibility.

CHARGE BY DREW

Col. George A. Drew, now premier of Ontario who was opposition counsel in the inquiry, charged that three days before the force sailed the government received explicit warning that war was coming.

The British documents were not included in the evidence but they were part of the inquiry as they were made available to the commissioner, Sir Lyman P. Duff, then chief justice of Canada, with the proviso they be not disclosed.

Documents tabled in the Commons disclose some differences of opinion among senior army officers of the training of the Royal Rifles of Canada from Quebec City and The Winnipeg Grenadiers which went to Hong Kong.

IN CATEGORY "C"

One training report placed both battalions in category "C"—ones not recommended for operational considerations at that time.

Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, then chief of the general staff, however, said both units were "of proven efficiency." He opposed taking better trained units placed in category "A" in the training report, from the 4th division because it would do that formation injury.

When Capt. E. S. Brand, then director of Canadian naval intelligence, appeared before the Royal Commission he was asked about the phrase "altered circumstances."

THINGS MORE STRAINED

"I do not think we have anything here; without looking at the newspapers about that time, I rather think that the Japanese government had changed and things were getting a little more strained. . . . There is nothing on our files about it."

He assumed there was a possibility that the government change in Tokyo on Oct. 16 was in the minds of the admiralty.

Appearing as a witness, Hon. C. G. Power, air minister and member of the war committee of the cabinet at the time, said he felt in his own mind that there was a "real danger of war with Japan."

In answer to a direct question from counsel as to whether in his mind war was imminent or a matter of the fairly remote future, Mr. Power replied:

"No, it was not imminent. I did not know when it would happen. I could not guess. It was all guesswork in this war."

The exhibits also include a lengthy report by British intelligence in Hong Kong, dated Sept. 1, 1941, which said that although "the sands are running out," Japan most likely would play for time as long as she can.

This report also said that it was believed that Japanese war preparations were still largely concerned with Manchuria, rather than with the south.

TELEGRAM REPRODUCED

The original British telegram of Sept. 19, 1941, requesting the Canadian force was reproduced in full and it said that the situation in the Orient "has now altered" with signs of "a certain weakening" in Japan's attitude towards the United States and Britain.

It was on this basis that the force was prepared and the Duff report said that the reasons which prompted the acceptance of the proposal "continued to operate with possibly increasing force up to the sailing of the expedition."

New York Papers Face Strike Threat

NEW YORK, March 11.—(AP)—Possibility of union printer strikes against 14 daily newspapers and the city's commercial publishers arose today.

Publishers of the dailies declared, however, that the papers would continue to appear if their 2,500 printers walked out after March 31. There was no word as to possible effects of a strike against the job and book publishers, who do 22 per cent of the commercial printing in the United States, or about $300,000,000 daily.

Spokesman for both sides in the commercial printing dispute indicated they considered a strike possible after employers had posted new working rules establishing longer hours and other conditions of employment designed to conform to the Taft-Hartley law.

The statement that "we shall continue to publish our newspapers" was made by the Publishers' Association of New York City, representing 14 major dailies.

Canada Must Produce More or Use Less

By George Kitchen

OTTAWA, March 11.—(CP)—One of the primary aims of the 25 per cent excist tax imposed in the Nov. 19 austerity program is to reduce domestic consumption and enable Canada to play a larger part in the reconstruction of Europe, Finance Minister Abbott said yesterday in the commons.

Answering opposition objections, to the enabling legislation, now in the resolution stage, he told the chamber he did not think Canada could continue "to live in an era of prosperity in the midst of a starving world" and said in his personal opinion the legislation did not go far enough.

The only way Canada could do more to aid European reconstruction by shipping larger supplies of goods was to either increase production or reduce consumption. Production now was "pretty nearly" at full capacity and the only course left open was to cut down consumption.

OPPOSITION CHARGES

Opposition speakers have charged that the tax was unconstitutional in that parliament was not first asked for its consent and have argued that the levy, though applying to a long list of non-essential articles, works hardship on the people.

Speakers included Arthur Ross (PC—Souris), and T. J. Bentley (CCF—Swift Current).

Stepping into the excise tax debate, Mr. Abbott said Canada has been exporting at a high level on credit. Up to the end of 1946 she was able to do this because her production was above domestic requirements but in 1947 this position changed, with the development of a greater domestic demand which found the country consuming about the same amount of goods it was producing.

If it was going to continue to maintain its overseas exports, the country would have to reduce its consumption.

It is believed that poliomyelitis was first discovered by a London physician in 1784.

ARMY STRENGTH PLACED AT 15,409

Canada's Armed Forces 43,827 Officers and Men

OTTAWA, March 11.—(CP)—Canada's armed forces have been reduced to 43,827 officers and men in the active branches of the army, air force and navy, the government disclosed yesterday in a series of written answers to parliamentary questions.

The heaviest concentrations of strength, the replies showed, are in general, western and northwestern Canada.

The defence department, replying to questions from Maj. E. D. Fulton (PC—Kamloops), said that the army's active strength is 15,409 officers and men. Authorized active strength for army is 26,529, subject to the provision that it shall not exceed 20,079 for the present. A question by Maj. Fulton on the size of the reserve army was not answered immediately.

The active strength of the RCAF is 11,636 of a total authorized strength of 18,221, subject to a similar restriction as in the case of the army that the strength should not exceed 14,271 at present.

The navy's strength was given as 6,782. The RCN has authority to expand to 7,875 at present and to an eventual total of 10,575.

The replies also disclosed that the RCAF has an auxiliary strength of 692 out of an authorized strength at present of 3,121 and 4,500 eventually.

The naval reserve is 3,247 with authorization for 4,400 at present and 18,000 in the future.

Crown Provides All Particulars In Libel Case

Fourteen Excerpts Are Listed From "Babies for Export"

Fourteen excerpts from the article "Babies for Export," were listed today as the Crown replied to S. H. McCuaig's demand for particulars in case against J. Kent Cooke and Harold Dingman, Ontario magazine men, charged with conspiracy to libel. Mr. McCuaig is defending magazine men.

In an eight-page document filed at court house, copies of which went to Mr. McCuaig, attorney-general's department gave answers as to time, places, where, names of all persons, each overt act, date, place thereof, particulars of all writings, letters, telegrams, words, phrases, drawings and symbols, specifying in each case the sense they are alleged to be defamatory.

JOINTLY CHARGED

Cooke, publisher of New Liberty magazine, and Dingman, his Ottawa editor, are jointly charged with Miss Charlotte Whitton, Ottawa welfare expert, with conspiracy to libel Charles B. Hill, superintendent of child welfare and other members of provincial child welfare branch.

Charge is based on New Liberty's article, published in its December 27 issue.

In reply to McCuaig's demand, Crown says "the times and in places and with persons as set forth in formal charge, and as appears in evidence adduced on behalf of the Crown at preliminary hearing."

ALL DOCUMENTS

Further, "all such writings, letters, telegrams, and other documents referred at that hearing either as exhibits or as exhibits for identification; two manuscripts of article "Babies for Export" seized by Cpl. J. J. Molyneaux, RCMP, in files of Liberty of Canada Ltd., Toronto, one of which has pasted to pages pencilled notations written by accused Whitton, and certain letters seized by Cpl. Molyneaux in offices of the IODE Edmonton, and which copies of letters are available for inspection."

Balance of reply is taken up with 14 excerpts as well as drawings, symbols and sub-titles contained in the article.

Meanwhile in Toronto Managing Editor Wallace Reyburn of New Liberty told reporters officers are again searching the magazine's Toronto offices looking for telegrams. Reyburn adds police claim telegrams were sent by Cooke to circulation representatives and wholesalers in Edmonton.

It was learned in Edmonton that several telegrams, purporting to have been sent by Cooke to Alberta distributors were entered as exhibits for identification at preliminary hearing.

Any action being taken by police officers in prosecution of the charge of conspiracy to commit libel against Jack Kent Cooke, Harold Dingman of New Liberty magazine and Dr. Charlotte Whitton, is routine procedure, Hon. Lucien Maynard, KC, attorney-general, said Thursday.

Mr. Maynard indicated he might not know of recent developments in the prosecution of the case, since police and law officers were following very ordinary legal procedure such as would be adopted in any case before criminal courts.

U. Students Go Military

More than 100 University of Alberta student officer-candidates will go on active service for the summer months, it was learned today. The students are all members of Canadian Officers' Training Corps, U of A contingent. Their four months of active training service with regular army instructors is part of their training as future officers.

Corps training centres are located at Montreal, Kingston, Calgary, Camp Borden near Toronto, and Camp Shilo in Manitoba.

Artillery and infantry service appears to be most popular with the U of A COTC members, according to figures received by The Bulletin. Total of 18 will attend the infantry school at Calgary, and 18 others will take artillery training at Camp Shilo.

Thirteen armored corps cadets will go to Camp Borden, four engineers to Chilliwack, B.C.; nine with the service corps to Camp Borden, five as signals officers to Kingston, six in ordnance to Montreal, 15 medical students to Camp Borden, six RCEME candidates to Montreal or Kingston, six dental students to Calgary, and six other dental students to clinics across Canada.

While at corps training schools, student officers will have the rank of second lieutenants with the privileges of that rank.

WAYWARD CITY BUS "BREAKS AND ENTERS"

A wayward bus crashed through the wall of an Edmonton establishment at 2:35 p.m. Wednesday.

A six by 12 foot hole was torn in the wall of Superior Cleaners, 11071 95 street when it was struck by a diesel bus of the Edmonton Transportation System.

Driver of the bus, Herbert Loney, 11629 95 street, said the wheels of the vehicle jammed after hitting a rut at 111 avenue and 95 street.

Before he could gain control of the bus it had crashed into the building.

Electric wiring and water pipes in the building were broken.

No one was injured and no passengers were in the bus which was on the way to barns.

Million Jobs Required For Canadian Youth

Unless a million more jobs are provided than in 1939, Canadian youth is in for some difficult times ahead.

This forecast was made Wednesday night by R. E. G. Davis, executive director of Canadian welfare council, at eighth annual meeting of Edmonton Council of Social Agencies held at Merricks Embassy Room.

Mr. Davis, in discussing challenging reports of Canadian Youth Commission said, "The memory of depression has cast its shadow over youth of today. Young people are apprehensive of the future. Present uncertainty in the midst of prosperity raises the question of where we are heading.

He revealed that Canadian Youth Commission recommended raising school leaving age to 16, with compulsory part-time vocational training to 18. Commission which is made up of varied religions and nationalities, also recommended films, radio and the press should contribute to the education of youth, there being very little evidence of the participation of youth in cultural activities.

Other points brought out by the reports are:

Twelve per cent of English speaking youth in Canada are dissatisfied with life in general.

Only one third of Young Canadians take part in sporting activities.

Ninety-five per cent of youth go to church.

Only five per cent go to college.

"On the whole," Mr. Davis said in conclusion, "the picture is not discouraging.

Youth is cynical of political parties and religious bodies. It wants drastic changes in society and a better world. There is at least some promise and ground for hope in the fact that they are striving for it in a practical manner."

E. B. Wilson, city barrister, was re-elected president of Council of Social Agencies at eighth annual meeting Wednesday night. Other officers include Mrs. J. Gillespie, Mrs. G. R. Davidson, Percy Cowley, J. W. A. Mustard and Mrs. Russell Love.

Two-Day Convocation Planned By University

For the first time in Uni versity of Alberta history, there will be two days of Convocation this year during which graduates will receive degrees and awards, it was learned by The Bulletin today.

Two Convocation exercises will be held in McDougall Church the afternoons of May 18 and 19. It has been customary in the past to hold Convocation for just one afternoon.

Reason for the split Convocation is the graduating class at the university this year includes more students than any such class ever has before—more than 900. In addition, 209 other students are expected to receive diplomas. Because of the large number of degrees to be given, these students will not be presented with diplomas at Convocation.

At last May's graduating exercises, 596 students were given degrees and diplomas. Last year's graduating class was largest in previous varsity history.

Dual Convocation will mean graduates in arts and science, agriculture, dentistry, and law will get degrees on Tuesday, May 18, the remainder on May 19.

Premier Ernest Manning and Mr. Justice H. H. Parlee, chairman of the board of governors of the university, will receive honorary degrees of doctor of law at the exercises.

It is expected a Fall Convocation will be held again next autumn for students who earn degrees during summer sessions.

Treasury Reserve Bill

Provision for setting up a reserve for bad or doubtful debts in treasury branch operations is contained in a bill recently distributed to members of the legislature. Bill was given first reading in unprinted form and was released for study Thursday.

In auditor's notes appended to the balance sheet of the treasury branches for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1947, appears the statement, "No provision has been made for losses arising from uncollectible accounts."

Up to March 31, 1947, the legislature had voted a sum of $517,000 for a contingency reserve to be held by treasury branches. It is said this will become part of reserve for bad or doubtful debts set up by new legislation.

New bill specifies reserve is to be set up from earnings of treasury branches.

It was learned, Thursday, no accounts had been written off by the treasury branches, though some had been moved to doubtful column. Provision is made in Treasury Act of the province for the cancellation or compromise of any debts owing the Crown.

Beekeepers Show Modern Devices

A demonstration of beekeeping equipment was staged in number 2 fire hall Wednesday.

Nine members of Edmonton and District Beekeepers' Association participated in the demonstration.

Equipment included bee veils modelled by Mrs. J. Dann. A speedy nailing device for frames was shown by D. Boettcher, while an exhibition of wiring frames and embedding wires in wax was given by A. Campbell and A. Mair.

Examples of good and poor drawn comb were set out by A. Campbell. E. E. Hunter illustrated making of supers and types of wood preferred.

Herbert Polinski spoke on hive stands, landing aprons and methods of handling bottom boards. Two new uncapping devices made by B. Farmer of Westlock were shown by W. G. Spencer. Operation of queen excluders and smokers was demonstrated by Joe Dann.

Air Fighters Defeat Sub-Zero Temperature

The RCAF could now fight a war under Arctic conditions, Wing Commander A. M. Cameron, officer commanding RCAF winter training establishment said here today most technical details of sub-zero operation have been solved.

Fifth winter program of training bases is now drawing to a close.

"We feel we could tell defense authorities what to do to make operations successful," declared Wing Commander Cameron.

Aircraft which took part in winter tests at Watson Lake, N.W.T., and Churchill, Manitoba, are now returning to main base here.

Complete details of the experiments cannot be released because of military secrecy, said Wing Commander Cameron.

Months will be required to completely analyze data gathered.

Officers directing experiments were disappointed in weather—it was not cold enough for long enough a time as could have been wished.

A fleet of twelve aircraft was operated during the winter with varying results. Types included trainers, bombers, fighters and transports.

Said Wing Commander Cameron: "Some bogged down in 20 to 25 degrees below zero and some operated satisfactorily at 50 below."

Great successes were achieved with jet-propelled Gloster Meteor, he added.

Co-operating with the RCAF were men of Canadian and Royal navies, co-ordinated by three officials of British Ministry of Supply.

School Days Lost, Question Asked

Effect on school attendance of snow-blocked roads was asked in legislature today.

A. J. E. Liesemer, CCF Calgary, asked government the number of pupil school days lost during the 1946-47 term because school buses could not operate.

He requested the same information for the present term to end of February.

MORE FREE DENTAL CARE TO PENSIONERS

While Alberta legislation had provided free medical, dental and hospital care to pensioners in the province during past year no provision had been made for supply of false teeth to replace those which may have been removed under dental care clauses.

Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health announced on Wednesday the government would now pay 50 per cent of the cost of dentures for its pensioners. This policy had been brought into effect on Feb. 1, he said.

ASSOCIATION HEAVILY FINED

Rowdy Engineer Students Find Horseplay Costly

Engineering students on University of Alberta campus were feeling glum today when they learned their organization had been heavily fined, according to information received today.

Because members of the Engineering Students' Society, official campus engineers' organization, had broken up classes "by molesting students and instructors," student enforcement and discipline committee imposed a $100 fine on the society.

Engineers are alleged to have marched through class-rooms, throwing snowballs at students and professors, on the occasion of their annual elections a little more than a week ago.

The engineers are reported to have "escorted" one professor out of his lecture room and dismissed his class.

University officials said "something should be done to bring to the attention of the persons concerned the undesirability of such conduct on the part of university students."

Enforcement and discipline committee, under the chairmanship of a medical student, G. D. Moinar, former army intelligence officer, considered the case and imposed the $100 fine.

Stated the committee's report: ". . . In order to prevent the recurrence of such attempts this committee has recommended the imposition of the above fine. Furthermore, had any individual been charged with the above-mentioned offences and found guilty, such offender would have received the most severe penalty that this committee is empowered to award."

In previous years, the occasion of the engineers' parade often resulted in inter-faculty fights and damage to university property. Two years ago, the Engineering Students' Society received $100 fine for such a parade, in which bags of flour were thrown, and property damaged by water.

"The fine is beyond all proportions to what actually happened this year," stated Don Dick, ESS president. ". . . A warning should be all that is necessary."

The Work of Mercy Never Ends. Give Generously to Canadian Red Cross!

Estd. 1886 JOHNSTONE WALKER LIMITED

Asset or Political Football?

Persistent sniping by A. J. E. Liesemer and Elmer E. Roper at the oil policy of the Alberta government goes wide of the mark because if the CCF has such an advanced program of oil development, as these gentlemen imply, why does the CCF government of Saskatchewan not put that program into operation?

Saskatchewan is the legislative laboratory of Socialism in Canada. With an adequate majority, Premier Douglas' government can enact whatever measures and establish whatever policies it chooses.

If the views of Messrs. Liesemer and Roper are the views of the CCF party (as they must be if there is any unanimity of opinion within that party) it is astonishing that Saskatchewan has not already the highest production of oil in Canada.

Saskatchewan has oil, probably quite as much as Alberta. In the Lloydminster field, in 1946, production on the Saskatchewan side was 136,863 barrels as against production on the Alberta side of 76,187 barrels.

The oil is there. Surely the sagacity of Messrs. Liesemer and Roper would be quite as effective in Saskatchewan as it attempts to be in Alberta.

The truth is that these gentlemen are infinitely more concerned with embarrassing the Alberta government than they are with producing oil.

Developments in the Turner Valley field did not awaken their criticism. Production at Taber, Conrad, Princess, Red Coulee, Del Bonita, Jumping Pound, Vermilion, Wainwright and Tilley left them silent.

But when, on February 13, 1947, the Imperial Leduc No. 1 well came into production and subsequent drillings brought startling results, they felt that the oil industry had attained such proportions in Alberta that it was large enough to be debauched into an agency for political denunciation.

The first essential feature of any provincial oil policy is that it should facilitate the production of oil. The Alberta oil policy is sound and commendable because it does produce oil to an extent that makes this province one of the great oil fields of the world.

Saskatchewan, where the policies of Messrs. Liesemer and Roper prevail, simply sits tight on its oil. Without actual production, the oil assets of Saskatchewan are valueless.

These gentlemen are not interested in Alberta oil as an asset of Alberta people. They are interested in it solely as a political football.

Private Bills Crowded Out

There is a very grave danger of choking off discussion of private bills, as is being done in Ottawa this session, even though it is recognized that government bills in the House of Commons must have a form of precedence to permit the implementation of government policy.

Private bills are not always of supreme urgency. But sometimes they deal with matters that are of high importance and interest to the Canadian people.

In this present session, for instance, such things as the ban on oleomargarine, appeals to the privy council and the outlawing of the Communist party in Canada are coming before the house in the form of private bills.

Whether you agree with these measures or disagree with them violently, it is a basic principle of parliamentary government that subjects of such wide public discussion should be thrown open to unrestricted debate.

The government is said to be anxious to prorogue the session by the end of June and that private bills are being shunted into the background to make this possible.

Why is it necessary to prorogue by the end of June?

The business of the Canadian people should be adequately dealt with if parliament has to sit until the end of December.

The British parliament sits almost continuously. Have Canadian members of parliament more important things to do?

Taxing Government Property

Edmonton's proposal to levy a tax, or seek grants in lieu of taxes, on non-administrative provincial and federal property in Edmonton becomes even more reasonable in the light of information disclosed in the legislature.

The provincial government, it is discovered, owns 26 buildings in Edmonton and 20 lots.

These holdings include the legislative and administrative buildings, the land titles building, the court house, the former normal school, five dwellings, the Terrace building, Government House and garage and a liquor store.

These disclosures indicate that the contention that the city loses $42,000 a year in the non-taxability of provincial property is probably too modest.

The exemption of privileged property from city taxation can be a highly dangerous business. In the middle 20's, Mexico City came close to bankruptcy because Church properties in that area not used exclusively for divine worship were not subject to taxation. The situation became so financially serious that highly regretable steps had to be taken.

The sources of municipal revenue are so definitely restricted that the exemption of non-administrative government property imposes a serious hardship on city taxpayers who must themselves make up sums the government owners fail to pay.

Taxation Reductions

Before the war, federal taxes consumed 11% of personal income in Canada. They now consume 25%. Federal taxation is going to be reduced. That much is assured. But it is a vain hope to believe that any present decreases will bring taxes down to their pre-war level because, with two notable exceptions, no country has yet been able to achieve that result.

In only two areas, so far as the facts are available, have federal taxes been decreased below the pre-war impost. The South American countries, without exception, have lower taxes now than they did before the war. In Italy, Mussolini's government absorbed 20% of personal income. The present government takes only 16%.

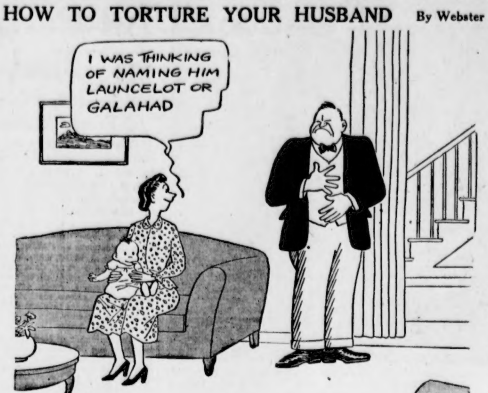

South American reductions are explained by the fact that these countries bore no heavy war costs. Italy's reduction is based on the obvious conclusion that the pilfering of Fascist bigwigs has been stopped.

In most other countries, the increase in taxation was comparable to Canada's. Thus, while the federal taxation of the United States took 8% of personal income before the war, it now takes 25% as in Canada. But in Britain, where taxation took 21% of personal income in pre-war days, it now takes 43%.

The pre-war tax of France consumed 15% of personal income. It now consumes 53%. Australia's pre-war tax was 10%, now 28%; Australia, 26% pre-war, now 40%; Russia, 26% pre-war, now 50%.

It is interesting to note that Russia has the highest taxation of any country in the world except France.

HOW TO TORTURE YOUR HUSBAND By Webster

OUR TOWN By Jack Scott

Two Endings for Same Fairy Tale

Everybody, young and old, loves a good fairy tale and I am no exception. A fairy tale brings the roses to my cheeks, inspires me to eat my spinach and go to bed with smiles and chuckles.

It was, therefore, with a glad little cry of joy that I received, last week, a copy of a delightful fairy tale called "The Murdered Millionaire." This fairy tale is published by the Vancouver Board of Trade, and gloriosky, children, it is a real whizzer. If you promise to sit very still I will read it to you.

"Once upon a time there was a wicked money baron," it starts. "He owned factories in which poor people worked twelve hours a day for just enough money to keep them alive. But the money baron lived in a huge, luxurious house with eighty-seven servants. He ate off gold plates, drank champagne for breakfast and held wild parties every night, to which nobody was invited except other millionaires. He was a Wicked Capitalist.

"The poor people who worked in his factories grew more and more bitter. They began to ask themselves why all this wealth should belong to one man, while they had so little. 'He should share it with us,' they said. So one day they left their machines and marched to the money baron's luxurious house. They broke down the door and killed the money baron just as he was reaching for his second glass of breakfast champagne. Then they divided his wealth among themselves. But there were so many workers that it came to only a few dollars each. For this pittance they had pulled the king pin out of their own livelihood.

"Of course," the pamphlet assures us, "this is a fairy story. You can finish it for yourself if you wish, ending up with no more money barons at all. In fact, if you carry it to its ultimate conclusion you'll find there will be very little of anything left."

Revised Edition

Now, as you can see, this is a lovely little fairy tale, indeed. But, unlike wise old Aesop, the anonymous writer hasn't given us quite the true picture. And so, your old Uncle Jack is going to just re-write this fairy tale a little bit, making just a few slight changes that will come a little closer to the truth. Here we go, then:

"Once upon a time there was a wicked money baron. He owned factories in which poor people worked twelve hours a day for just enough money to keep them alive. They worked six and sometimes seven days a week and their children were often hungry and their wives got sick when they should have been young and they were all very miserable.

"But the money baron lived in a huge luxurious house with two luxurious cars and a cupboard stacked with goodies and a safety deposit box stacked with interest-bearing bonds and his children went to private schools in blue blazers and his wife had her hair done every Wednesday and sometimes on Friday, too.

"The poor people who worked in his factories grew more and more bitter. They began to ask themselves why all this wealth should belong to one man, while they had so little. 'It doesn't seem quite right,' they said because they thought things over pretty slowly and, besides, if they said much more they would get little blue slips in their pay envelopes and nobody likes to have his slip showing.

"Finally, one of the very brave poor people got a fine idea and all the people who worked in the factory gathered in an old hall and listened to him. 'We will form a union,' the man said, and this was done because the poor people didn't have much to lose, anyway. They were slow to think things out, but not that slow.

Happy Ending

"So one day a few of the selected poor people left their machines and marched to the money baron's mahogany office and they stood on first one foot, then the other, and twirled their caps in their hands, and they told the money baron they were sorry, but they had a union now and they were afraid he would have to share some of the goodies.

"Well, the money baron cried and shouted and carried on, but he knew that he wouldn't have his goodies very long unless the poor people stayed at the machines and finally everything was straightened out in a sort of way.

"Years went by and more brave people formed unions and finally quite a few poor people were having two days of a week and getting home while the sun was still in the high blue sky and their children began to get plumper and their wives looked younger and a good time was had by all.

"Of course, the poor people still had to pay the money barons six per cent on their mortgages and they still had to stand in crowded street cars and they still wondered what would happen to them when they got old and too tired to work the machine, but they were happy. The money baron was happy, too, for much to everybody's surprise he still had his two luxurious cars and his yacht and his big fat safety deposit box."

Of course, this is a fairy story. You can finish it for yourself, if you wish, ending up with no more money barons at all. In fact, if you carry it to its ultimate conclusion, you'll find there'll be plenty of everything left for everybody.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Mr. Tim Buck

Editor, Bulletin—The principal reason why we subscribers to your paper shell out 25 cents per week is that we wish to be informed of what's doing in Edmonton, in Canada and in the world. We buy news.

Now, Mr. Editor, a visit to Edmonton by leaders of political parties is news and what they say is news, irrespective of whether we agree with their utterances or not. I like to know what Mr. Bracken says on his visit to Edmonton, or Mr. King or Coldwell. I like to be informed.

You claim you are a newspaper. You charge for a service. The Bulletin is the oldest newspaper in the province. It has a reputation and a tradition. How come, then, Mr. Editor, that your reporters failed to report the utterences of Mr. Tim Buck, the leader of the Labor Progressive party in Canada when he addressed a public meeting at the Memorial Hall on Sunday night March 7? Was it a slip up or are you scared to report something that does not meet with your approval?

Certainly, I think you owe us subscribers an explanation. I hope you don't mind me asking and I hope you do not conclude that I am a "red" because I ask this question.

Below World Prices

Editor, Bulletin—Our wheat farmers complain of getting less than world prices.

Canadian farmers could sell all their dairy products, fruits and eggs, to Britain at any price that suits them, and take British manufactured goods at a profit if they really wanted to. Russia sells wheat to Britain and takes British manufactured goods, instead of money.

Selling milk at a price that won't pay land and local improvement taxes, won't provide, payments under the Workmen's Compensation Act, won't pay wages equal to wages in other industries, won't pay feed costs, and interest on money invested, in order to carry on a devastating "milk war," and howling to governments to levy a sales tax that hits the low-income groups harder than a fair price on milk, is a form of Communism that no self-respecting people should tolerate.

Personal Iron Curtains

Editor, Bulletin: Canada is a country of free peoples. People free to work for whom they choose, worship as they choose and vote in free elections.

Should you have certain things about you which differ from the man next to you, it matters not to him. You are just as welcome to all the freedoms of our democratic Canada as anybody. Race, color, or origin; they are something you don't worry about in Canada.

To you who read this as a parent, student, politician or whatever line you follow, do you honestly believe this to be true?

There are many who will tell you it is not true, the Japanese, the Chinese, the Indians, the East Indians and the Negroes will all tell you it's not true.

There is no real reason for this situation.

Pull back your own personal iron curtain of prejudice and ignorance and wake up!

Juvenile Justice

Editor, Bulletin. — No wonder the younger generation is so bitter and is "striking back" in the only way it knows how.

What has been offered these youngsters and their parents, to make for a happy peaceful life?

In most cases squalid ugly rooms in other people's houses in place of nice homes with big yards for them to play in. Landlords snarling at them to "keep quiet." Bathrooms shared with unsavory characters, all in all horrid, crowded living conditions bringing short-tempers and little or no privacy.

Juvenile delinquency?

One of the most successful years of work recorded in recent history of Antarctic sledging has just been completed by United Kingdom experts. Some 3,500 miles were travelled by dog team to carry out extensive topographical and geological surveys in the Falkland Islands. The year's activities culminated in two long trips covering over 1,000 miles of the Weddel Sea coast of Grahamland, much of which has never been traversed before and therefore not hitherto been accurately charted.

Smiles

Although as big and as strong as the policeman who had arrested him, the man with the close-cropped hair and brutal face allowed himself to be marched towards the police-station.

There had been the usual crowd in anticipation of a scrap, but it had drifted away when they saw there was nothing doing. Even the policeman admitted it was the tamest arrest he had made for many a day.

"It isn't like you to go so quietly," he remarked. "What's taken all the ginger out of you?"

The prisoner sighed.

"I've got my best clothes on."

Wife: "What did you ever do that benefitted any fellowman?"

Hubby: "I married you, didn't I?"

With a wild lurch, the motor-car swung round the corner and crashed into a lamp-post. Six men, who had previously been celebrating, climbed out of the wreck and stood eyeing it owlishly.

Up came a policeman to take particulars, but the spokesman of the party forestalled him.

"Sallright," he said, "no one's fault. There's no—hic—one to blame. We were all riding in the back seat."

FROM TODAY'S NEWS

Jan Masaryk's death has thrown much light on a question which had been puzzling a lot of us, namely, just how he appraised the situation growing out of the Communist seizure of power in Czechoslovakia.

Several days after the Red coup he gave a flat endorsement of close co-operation with Russia. However, he coupled this with the dramatic declaration to the army and his "Czech and Slovak brothers": "I am with you."

It was an enigmatic statement. Some observers thought it indicated that Masaryk had embarked on a highly dangerous double game. Others felt he was trying to steer a middle course to bring Moscow and the western democracies together in peace.

"Well, it now seems probable that in the long and lonely hours of Tuesday night he came to the fateful decision that he was playing a futile role—that his usefulness was finished. What tipped the balance may have been his realization that his continued presence in the Communist government as foreign minister was giving the Reds a chance to traffic on the public's worship of his father, founder of the republic.

Jan Masaryk may even have felt (to use the language of British Prime Minister Attlee) that "he could not endure to live in the suffocating atmosphere of totalitarianism." Indeed, it would be strange if the foreign minister weren't in a state of near despair. Still, I'm inclined to believe that he would have stayed on and fought it out, if he hadn't felt that it was better for his country if he "withdrew."

It isn't unreasonable to conclude that Jan Masaryk figured it was for the good of Czechoslovakia if he disappeared.

LOOKING BACKWARD

1888—60 Years Ago

The question of whether Canada is or is not going to the dogs came up for discussion very early this session. If the government of the country were the country itself, and if the management of the financial and other affairs coming directly under government control included the management of all such affairs in the dominion that would be true.

It is often pointed out that the northern part of the state of Maine prevents a direct line of railway through Canadian territory to the Canadian winter ports of Halifax and St. John. If the Hudson Bay route were opened up, the west would find many of its grievances solved.

SITTING ON THE FENCE By Nathaniel Gubbins

Most Noted Quack Advises on Ill-Health

So far the voice of that well-known Fleet street quack, Dr. Gubbins, has not been heard on the new health service to begin in July.

He thought he would let the B.M.A. shout itself hoarse before he offered his opinion.

After all, they are qualified and he is only a quack, though he would remind them that all people with new ideas are considered quacks or cranks in their time.

Long after they are dead duller minds catch up on them and the ideas conceived by the quacks and cranks become orthodox.

Then new quacks and cranks are born, are sneered at in their turn, and when they die the timid and unadventurous adopt their ideas.

As with medicine, so with politics, art, literature. The world progresses through ignorance and prejudice (in one hopes) the final enlightenment.

Largest Practice

Therefore, Dr. Gubbins, with the largest practice and the cheapest fees in the world (more than 2,000,000 patients at 2d. a week) offers the soundest advice ever proposed to a suffering world. He offers a new idea on health which may one day be universal.

To those who are wondering what to do about medical attention in July, he says do without it altogether.

Unless you are the victim of inherited disease, or unless you meet with an accident, you don't need a doctor at any time.

All you need is some common sense and self-discipline.

First of all, don't worry about yourself.

What is the secret of spiritual health?

Any bishop, who ought to know more about these matters than Dr. G. will tell you (or ought to tell you) that the secret of spiritual health, and therefore happiness, is to forget yourself.

Stop asking yourself: "What is going to happen to poor me?" and nothing very unpleasant will happen to you.

But go on asking the question, not only muttering it to yourself, but to other people, and Dr. Gubbins can prophesy something unpleasant that will happen to you.

You'll get a great thump on the nose from somebody who can't stand your whining any longer.

Forget That Body

It's the same with your body. Forget your body. Surely it's ugly enough, isn't it? Hardly worth remembering, hardly worth worrying about all day and half the night?

If you don't believe your Doctor G. says and have any good look at your body in a full-length mirror. Then try to forget it, if you can.

Consider for a moment how much time and trouble you have spent on that body you are trying to forget.

Most of your waking life has been wasted in washing it, clothing it, warming it, cooling it, feeding it, indulging it, and working so that you will have enough money to wash it, clothe it, warm it, cool it, feed it, and indulge it.

And if you are a man and marry another body, you will have to work harder to wash, clothe, warm, cool, feed, and indulge the body you have married.

Do I have to tell you that if you have children you will have more bodies to wash, clothe, feed, and so on?

Perhaps not, but I think I ought to remind you that these bodies you are washing, clothing, feeding, and indulging will soon be worrying about themselves, soon be making themselves ill with worry, soon be worrying you about it, and soon be yelling for a doctor.

Unless they have broken their legs or they have caught some infectious disease (probably through their own fault), Dr. Gubbins advises you to take no notice of them.

They are probably suffering from nothing worse than self-pity.

Then consider what you have done to this body since you grew up and had full control of it.

How many times have you eaten too much, drunk too much?

Don't turn your head away in shame, Dr. Gubbins is also guilty of self-indulgence, though he can honestly say he has rarely eaten too much. During the last eight or nine years he hasn't had a chance.

But what do you think is the cause of that indigestion you are always moaning about? Eating too much? Eating too little? Eating at the wrong times? Eating war-time bread? Monotonous diet?

No. It's worry. Worrying if you'll get enough to eat. Worrying if somebody else is getting more. Worrying if you're not getting your fair share. And, some of you, nibbling at the black market, worrying if you are.

In other words, you're a pig. You're a stomach worshipper. You're an "I me." "I ought to have this." "What is going to happen to me?" "Me for me second, and if there's anything left, me third." You're a fine, big, fat, sleek, well-fed pig, and I hope your indigestion gets worse and worse.

It certainly will, anyway. This is Dr. Gubbins telling you.

Buy all the powders you like at the chemist's. Buy a stomach pump for all I care. You will certainly get relief. But you'll get no cure.

As you grow older you'll think more and more about that stomach of yours, put more and more things into it that it doesn't want, and more and more powders into it to keep it quiet, until you're nothing but a grumbling bag of acids and alkalines.

Then you'll start worrying about your heart and liver until they get into a state, too.

Then you'll get rheumatism and gout and lumbago and sciatica and Bright's disease and double vision and barber's rash and athlete's foot and lamplighter's colic and road-sweeper's throat and dustman's elbow and housemaid's knees.

Maybe you'll get basket-maker's thumb, but I will not swear to that right. You shouldn't be making baskets unless they're for export.

At this moment Dr. Gubbins is not feeling so hot himself. He thinks he has barfly's toe, unless it is a touch of "Bombay Belly," which is much the same thing.

But don't follow his example. Follow his advice. Then you won't need a doctor and the B.M.A. and the Minister of Health can work that one out between them.

"ERROR OF JUDGMENT" ACKNOWLEDGED

Wavell Lists 7 Causes Of Defeat in Burma

By JOHN DAUPHINEE

LONDON, March 11.—(CP)—Viscount Wavell, over-all commander of the ill-fated Burma campaign in a War Office dispatch published tonight attributed the defeat of his outnumbered forces in 1942 to seven main causes:

1. Unpreparedness of Burma for a war in which a contributing factor was the "cardinal mistake" of authorities in London in putting Burma under the Far East command instead of under India.

2. The terrain made attack the best form of defence but "unfortunately the means were not available."

3. "Misconceptions" in assessment of the Burma defence problem and the form the main Japanese attack would take.

4. An inadequate system of military intelligence.

5. Insufficient naval force to give effective support to the army.

6. Inadequate air support for the army.

7. The moral effect on the soldiers of the knowledge that part of the population was "potentially hostile and treacherous."

Wavell acknowledged in the dispatch his own "error of judgment in minimizing the danger to Burma." He said he overestimated the difficulties of wooded hills on the Burmese frontier and failed to realize the "unreliable quality" of Burmese units and the lack of training of British and Indian troops.

Student Veterans Win Top Council Positions

Student veterans at the University of Alberta won three of top four positions on varsity Students' Council at heavily-contested Students' Union elections Wednesday. Ex-servicemen were elected to positions of president, secretary, and treasurer.

Third year agriculture student Bernard Bowlen, of Carstairs, was elected president of the University Students' Union. He succeeds George Hartling, a graduating commerce student.

In one of the heaviest vote yet recorded at any student election, Bowlen obtained 1,123 votes from total of 2,264 ballots cast, to win over his two opponents, Bob Grainger, a commerce student, who received 778 votes, and Bill Turlock, law undergraduate with 331.

ACTIVE IN AFFAIRS

Bowlen, a 26-year-old student veteran with six years' experience in the Royal Canadian Navy, has been active in campus activities during the past three years.

Three coeds were entered in the race for vice-president of the Students' Union. Elaine Brown, 21-year-old Calgarian, won a majority over Nancy Johnson, Edmonton, and Iris Thorogood, Victoria, B.C.

Jack Starritt, former RCAF flight lieutenant and second year law undergraduate, defeated Tom Walsh, of Oxbow, Sask., and Les Warden, of Vulcan, for the secretary's post.

Treasurer, elected by acclamation, Maurice Roe, an army veteran and second year commerce student.

Other successful candidates include: Andy Andrekson, vice chairman of the University athletic board; Olga Barilko, secretary of the board; Gordon McLaws, well-known city tennis and curling star, treasurer.

Mary Morrison, president of the Wauneita Society, official women's organization on the campus; Patricia Poland (by acclamation) secretary of the society.

Don Phillips, president of the campus musical association (by acclamation); June Sigsworth, secretary of the association (by acclamation).

Gordon Peacock, president of the literary association; Pat Scott, secretary of the association.

Wilda Fitch and Ira Jones were elected to the women's disciplinary committee.

New Economic Outlook Urged

Independence Urged by Abbott In Forecast of Higher Output

TORONTO, March 11.—(CP)—Finance Minister Abbott said today that Canada has reached the stage where she must begin building a more independent economy.

In a speech before the Empire Club of Toronto, Mr. Abbott said Canada's shortage of American exchange has demonstrated once again "how vulnerable our economic position is in its exaggerated dependence upon the United States for materials and equipment and upon Western Europe for imports."

"We have reached a stage in our national development when we must reduce this dependence and begin the building of a more virile and independent economy of our own."

DISCUSSES PROBLEMS

Mr. Abbott started his address by saying that he wished to deal with Canada's national and international accomplishments in recent years, but he touched on some of the problems confronting the nation.

He told how Canada's national income and employment figures were at all-time highs and how the war had seen the introduction of such social security measures as family allowances and unemployment insurance.

The war, he said had brought unprecedented industrial expansion.

"We became one of the chief arsenals of democracy and we feared that when the war was over, we might be left with a huge area of vacant factory space and a large amount of idle equipment."

REVERSE PROVED TRUE

The reverse had proved true. Industry's plans for expansion in 1948 were greater than they were in 1947.

"From the point of view of our dollar position and because of its general inflationary effect," said Mr. Abbott, "it would be better for everyone concerned if the program of capital expansion and improvement were spread over a longer period, and I am hopeful that this will be one of the results of the dollar-saving plan."

"But there can be no doubt that as the new plant and equipment get into production, Canadian industry, already endowed with new skills and improved know-how will be in a position to achieve even higher levels of output."

Restrictions On Veto Asked

LAKE SUCCESS, March 11.—(AP)—United States today proposed drastic restrictions on the big power veto in the United Nations.

Proposal would exclude all the issues on which Russia used the veto 22 times in the last two years.

It was laid before the Little Assembly as the first move toward carrying out a declaration made last September by State Secretary Marshall who said then the United States was willing to limit the veto to questions of prime importance if the other big powers would agree. The assembly referred the entire veto question to the Little Assembly.

AGREEMENT UNLIKELY

Today, the U.S. delegation conceded there still was no evidence that Russia would agree to any modification of the Security Council voting procedure.

However, the issue was so important it was worth trying.

Russia, along with the other Slav countries, is boycotting the Little Assembly. Any changes in the veto use, however, would have to go before the regular assembly and then would have to be agreed upon by the Security Council, including all five great powers.

Governor of Bank To Be Witness At Prices Probe

Members of the committee earlier had called for the appearance of Mr. Towers for information on financial conditions as related to rising prices.

It was also announced yesterday that spokesmen for consumer groups would be heard by the committee on Friday.

THE BOARD OF STRATEGY shouldered with the task of getting Regina Caps back on the victory trail isn't doing any bragging where tonight's clash against Flyers at the Arena is concerned. Instead the crucial tilt is being given the 'crossed fingers' treatment as exemplified by, left to right, Bill Hunter, manager, Cliff Ehrle, president, and Joe Fisher, coach.

46 Entered In Grand National

LONDON, March 11. —(AP)— Forty-six entries were accepted yesterday for the Grand National steeplechase. The race will be run March 20 at Aintree.

The number was far less than expected for the 4½-mile contest. Fifty-seven started last year. The record field was 66 in 1929.

Two former winners—Lovely Cottage from 1946 and Caughoo from last year—will try again for the blue ribbon of chasing.

All the fancied horses in the prerace betting were left in, including Lord Rosebery's Silver Fame, the favorite. Silver Fame has won five straight races.

Prince Regent, the grand old fencer from Ireland, will bid again under top weight. He is 13 years old and in the last two years has placed third and fourth, despite heavy burdens from the handicapper.

This time he will tote 170 pounds, nine more than the lone candidate from the United States, Caddie II, owned by Washington financier Paul Mellon.

Owners paid £100 ($400) to qualify their jumpers. First place is worth £9,034 ($36,136).

City Puck Squads To Play at Ponoka

Action in Fred Morle's Intermediate "B" Hockey League swings down to Ponoka this week-end, where four city sextets—Henry Singer's Highlands, Page's Cleaners, Jasper Place and Utility Sales —will resume their semi-final playoffs.

The doubleheader will be run off Saturday night, with Highlands and Eastwood squaring off in the opener, and Jasper Place and Sales clashing in the finale. The teams are shooting for the right to meet Cloverdale for the city title. Both semi-final series are tied at one game apiece.

Eastwood Takes Cage Exhibition

Eastwood defeated Commercial 20-17 in a junior high school exhibition basketball game played yesterday at Eastwood.

Cropps, with nine points, was top scorer for the winners. Wood (6) and Weeder (4) also were prominent.

Strachan and Waddington, each with four points, paced the losers.

Lineups:

Eastwood—Bazar, Burns, Cordingley, Krolkowski, Cropps (9), Sklar, Weeder (4), Wood (6), Lakusta (1)—20.

Commercial—Strachan (4), Latta (2), Lee (2), Elliott (2), Waddington (4), Panos (1), Vanderhead (2), Raymond —17.

Red Wings Zoom Past Hawks to First Place

DETROIT, March 11.—(AP)—Detroit Red Wings broke their deadlock with the idle Toronto Maple Leafs last night to take first place in the National Hockey League with a 7-2 rout of Chicago Black Hawks.

It was the season finale between the clubs and Wings gained a wide 10-2 edge in victories. The 20 points compiled through the campaign were the most Wings have ever made against any NHL team in one season.

Wings jumped to a 3-0 lead in the first period and a 4-0 advantage in the second. Gordon Howe was the only double scorer, as 11 of the Detroit players picked up points.

FRANCIS PLAYED WELL

Despite the seven goals, Emil Francis made many sparkling saves, stopping five breakaways as Wings gave their most wide-open exhibition of the year on home ice. Francis made 40 saves.

Harry Lumley, who blocked 25 shots, lost the bid for his seventh shutout early in the last period when Ralph Nattrass and Gaye Stewart tallied in little more than a minute.

Pete Horeck opened the rout with a short poke from a goal mouth scramble. Rod Morrison whipped in a flashy 25-foot backhander for the second and Jack Stewart tallied No. 3 on a soft four-foot stab after Howe's perfect setup.

Gaye Stewart was in the penalty box when Ted Lindsay, the NHL's leading goal-getter, smashed in his 32nd of the season.

Detroit was shorthanded, Bep Guidolin still sitting out a major penalty for fighting Alex Kaleta, when Howe had a breakaway for his first marker.

Jim McFadden tallied No. 6 and Howe added No. 7 after the two Chicago goals.

LINE-UPS

Chicago—Francis; Gadsby, Nattrass; Bodnar; Polle, G. Stewart. Subs: Marinoni, Dickens, Prystai, Bentley, R. Conacher, Gee, Mosienko, Brown, Hamill, Kaleta.

Castilloux Given Nod Over Waithe

TORONTO, March 11.—(CP)— Crafty Dave Castilloux, 140 pounds, of Montreal scored an eight-round split decision here last night over Simeon Waithe, 135, Toronto, in a dull main event of a six-bout card which drew about 2,500 customers.

Castilloux, slow-moving and hog-fat, still packed enough skill to maul the well-muscled Negro as he maintained his plodding but effective offensive throughout. The veteran Montrealer opened a small cut over Waithe's right eye in the third round and started the fourth with a terrific right to the Toronto lightweight's head which backed Waithe against the ropes.

It was the best punch of the bout. For the present at least, this washes up Waithe as a possible opponent for Arthur King, Dominion lightweight champion, and places 31-year-old Castilloux in the position Waithe long has been seeking. King beat Waithe in an earlier fight.

Words of Warning To Duck Hunters

ST. LOUIS, March 11.—(AP)— Duck hunters were advised yesterday by Albert Hochbaum of Delta Station, Man., to brush up on their marsh manners if they don't want to ruin the sport.

Too many hunters "have never been exposed to the ethics and traditions of wildfowling," Hochbaum, of the Delta Waterfowl Research station, told the North American Wildlife conference.

Because of the increasing numbers of hunters afield "many must operate on a get-while-the-getting's-good basis or go home."

"The maddest of all gunning is opening day on the marsh. Ducks flying over at heights the old-timer would never think of touching are lambasted by dozens of guns.

"Everybody takes a crack in the hope of scratching down a bird. A personal code of sportsmanship seems futile because if one hunter doesn't shoot at the bird, another will."

Calgary Hoopsters Meet Pats Friday

Clare Hollingsworth's Army and Navy Pats, Alberta intermediate ladies' basketball champs, will go in against Calgary's McArthurs in the second of a best-of-three final series for provincial laurels at the Varsity Drill Hall Friday night.

Pats breezed to victory in the opening game at the Foothills City last week, but McArthurs have served notice of giving keener opposition come Friday night. The match will get underway at 8:30.

Freddy Metcalfe Ill in Montreal

MONTREAL, March 11.—(CP)— Freddy Metcalfe, coach of New York Rovers in the QSHL, was under observation in a Montreal hospital last night.

Hospital officials say Metcalfe collapsed Wednesday afternoon and was rushed to hospital by members of his team. He's scheduled to undergo a thorough examination in the morning, and meanwhile his condition is reoprted as "not good".

Several doctors reportedly are studying his case. But the hospital hasn't gone on record other than to say it still is "not sure" what's wrong with him.

Skating Stars Will Compete In City Meet

Lloyd Johnson and Pat Gunn, respectively men's and ladies' Alberta indoor speed skating champions, will show their wares when the Community league speed skating tests are staged at 119 street rink Friday night.

Opening race is set for 7:30 o'clock.

Total of 30 events is scheduled with the Gordon Winkler shield going to the winning team. Rosdale, 1947 victor, will not have a team entered.

In addition to the Winkler award the Clarke Sporting Goods trophy will be offered for competition for the first time among the 14-15 year olds.

Princeton Hockey Player Suspended

PRINCETON, N.J., March 11. —(AP)—Henry W. Safarik, defenceman on the Princeton university hockey team, was suspended yesterday on charges of playing in the Metropolitan and Eastern United States Hockey leagues under the assumed name of "Lee".

Kenneth Fairman, director of university athletics, said the suspension would continue until Safarik's eligibility status is clarified. The action was taken under an Ivy League rule which calls for forfeiture of amateur standing for competing under an assumed name.

Safarik played during the 1942-43 season with Sands Point Tigers and during 1943-44 with New Haven Eagles, Fairman said.

Jack Noble Heads Sporting Dog Club

Jack E. Noble was elected president of the Edmonton Sporting Dog club at the annual meeting held recently. Bruce Galliven took over as vice-president and the secretary's job is to be handled by Norman Lee.

First event planned for the season will be the licensed field trials at Edmonton Beach, May 15.

Judges tentatively appointed include C. E. (Buster) Brown, Bill Brownlee, Pat St. Peter and Tommy Quilley.

Paulins Triumph

WINNIPEG, March 11.—(CP)— Winnipeg Paulins posted a decisive 65-51 win over Winnipeg St. Andrews here last night to take the first game in the best-of-three series for the Manitoba Senior Men's basketball crown.

Elimination Hauls Wetaskiwin Juniors

Ramsden, Brown Pace Sons to 8-3 Victory

Lethbridge Native Sons, who have been rapping on the junior hockey door for several years, appear headed for the western finals—at least.

Last night at the Arena the star-studded Sons of the south staged a razzle-dazzle performance that all but convinced 3,905 paying fans they are it for Alberta. Scotty Munro's boys made it look easy while breezed through a disorganized Wetaskiwin Canadian club 8-3 for their third-successive triumph of the best-of-seven final series.

Loaded with prospective pro talent, Sons burnt up the ice as they rolled smoothly to a 4-0 margin before Canadians struck for a brace of goals in the sandwich session. The Southerners increased the edge to 6-2 with a two-goal flurry within eight seconds late in the same frame, and then out-scored Canadians 2-1 in the final.

PAIR HAT TRICKS

Blond-thatched Bill Ramsden and Fred Brown, two Lethbridge smoothies who rate highly in New York Ranger books, were the fair-haired lads in the Sons' dressing room following the battle. The pair of highly-touted hockeyists lived up to advance notices while netting a hat trick apiece and blazing the trail for two more goals. Bob Manson, Edmonton product, and Mickey Maglio added the others.

Ramsden, who is 18-years-old and tips the scales at 150 pounds, sniped 90 goals and collected 50 assists during the season. A Winnipeg boy, he is rated as one of the greatest pro prospects in years by New York scouts. Fans saw why at the Arena last night.

Ramsden incurred a suspension for striking an official during a brawl in an exhibition match with Moose Jaw Canucks recently. However, the suspension was lifted almost immediately allowing him to take part in the Lethbridge drive for Memorial Cup laurels.

The other half of the "hat-trick" team—Brown—is a former Moose Jaw Canuck of two-years ago. He played with the great Metro Prystai. Brown also sports a scoring mark of well over the hundred mark this season.

Eddie Dorohoy, third member of Sons' front line who turned in a starry role in the first two games in the southern city, was given the "Richard Guard" by Canadians last night. Only once was the high-scoring winger able to break into the scoring column. That came in the second period when he helped Mickey Maglio tally Lethbridge's fourth counter.

BROWN STARTS IT

The fast-skating Brown started the Lethbridge ball rolling early in the game when he broke when he found the key to Stu Hendry's locker for two markers within nine seconds. The fire was kindled and Ramsden and Maglio fanned it to white heat with a goal apiece before Canadians fought back.

Canadians held their own for the first time of the night in the second frame. Although outscored 3-2 in their play beginning to click and a closer battle loomed. However, after Herb Lundmark and Goaltending Vic Stasiuk counted two in a row, they failed thereafter to match the class of the fleet Sons.

Sen Gordon added home a double relay from Colin Kilburn, who played a whale of a game, and Bruno Pasqualotto to raise Wetaskiwin hopes slightly early in the third. However Bob Manson, who is skating and playing better than ever, and Ramsden replied for Sons.

The champs are mighty and shall prevail, appeared to be the attitude taken by even the keenest of Wetaskiwin supporters. Sons had it last night, whereas Canucks just couldn't get organized. True, it wasn't the best game Canadians have played on Arena ice, but even at their best they would have difficulty in stopping Sons.

Approximately 600 Wetaskiwinites travelled to the city to witness the smooth-functioning Lethbridge machine crush their favorites. But, as Vic Stasiuk put it after the tussle, "somebody had to lose."

Fourth (and it could be final) game of the series will be run off at the Arena Saturday night. If Sons take the verdict, they move onward to Saskatchewan to tackle either Moose Jaw Canucks or Regina Pats.

"We can beat Canucks anytime, but Port Arthur Bruins will be tough," Scotty Munro, congenial Lethbridge coach, commented after the game. Munro, who knows plenty about whipping juniors into shape, praised Hendry, Kilburn and Bob Goodacre for starry showings in a losing cause.

Lineups:

Lethbridge — Rodzinyak; Milford, Evans; Dorohoy; Ramsden, Brown. Subs: LeClair, Manson, Murphy, Lavell, Holmes, Richardson, Maglio.

Wetaskiwin—Hendry, Pasqualotto; LeClair, Purvis; Nichiuk, Lundmark. Subs: Heathcott, Kilburn, Cook, Appleton, Goodacre, Stasiuk, Meinnis, McNabb.

Officials—Sam Swain, Calgary, Vic Lindquist, Winnipeg.

Summary

First Period: 1—Lethbridge, Brown (Lavell, Milford) 3:14; 2—Lethbridge, Brown (Ramsden) 5:23; 3—Lethbridge, Ramsden (Lavell, Evans). Penalties—Holmes (3), Evans, Cook.

Second Period: 4—Lethbridge, Maglio (Dorohoy, Richardson) 3:13; 5—Wetaskiwin, Lundmark (Kilburn) 12:02; 6—Wetaskiwin, Stasiuk (Goodacre) 13:44; 7—Lethbridge, Brown (Ramsden) 19:41; 8—Lethbridge, Ramsden (Brown) 19:49. Penalties—Cook, Evans, Lavell.

Third Period: 9—Wetaskiwin, Cook (Kilburn, Pasqualotto) 7:36; 10—Lethbridge, Manson (Richardson) 12:09; 11—Lethbridge, Ramsden (Brown) 12:46. Penalties—none.

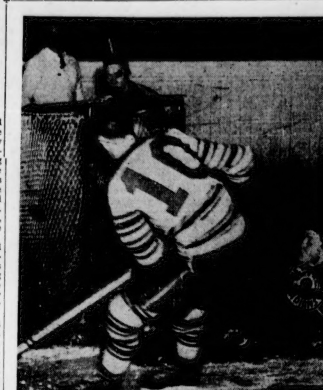

Army, Navy Wins

Army and Navy downed W. W. Arcade 6-4 at Eastwood rink last night in the final game of the Maple Leaf Bantam Hockey league.

Walcott Lays Egg At Atlantic City

CHICAGO, March 11.—(AP)— Jersey Joe Walcott, who became an international celebrity overnight through the simple procedure of twice flooring Joe Louis, last night engaged in a timid four-round exhibition with Austin Johnson, Atlantic City, before a slim crowd of 1,589 fans in the Chicago Coliseum.

The net receipts were $2,972, not enough to meet Walcott's $4,000 guarantee.

WINNIPEG FOOTBALL ACE CALGARY-BOUND

CALGARY, March 11.—(CP)—Officials of the Calgary Stampeders football club last night confirmed a Winnipeg report that Harry Hood, starry backfielder with Winnipeg Blue Bombers for several seasons, is moving to Calgary.

Club officials said they hoped that Hood would be declared eligible to play for Stampeders during the 1948 season and said Winnipeg and Regina clubs would be asked to give the necessary permission for Hood to play with Calgary. Under Western Interprovincial Football Union rules, a player switching cities is ineligible to play for his new home town for one year unless he secures written permission from all other clubs in the loop.

Hood has accepted a position with a Calgary manufacturing company and will report for duty next week.

Officials said negotiations were underway with several United States grid stars and they hoped to release the names of players obtained in a few days.

Flyers Triumph

STOCKHOLM, March 11. —(Reuters)—RCAF Flyers, Canada's Olympic hockey champions, Wednesday defeated the Aik club team 4-0 in their first match in Sweden.

CITY SHUTTLE STARS EYE SASKATOON MEET

Alf Ingall, Edmonton's top ranking player, will lead a party of close to 20 local enthusiasts to the Saskatchewan Badminton championships, set for Saskatoon, March 19-20.

The Edmonton party will travel by special coach.

Officers planning to take in the Hub-City doings include Louise Marshall, city ladies' singles queen; Pauline Ingall, Irma McManus, Cal Holmgren and Johnny Battersby.

Ingall and other competitors in the men's singles event will find the biggest stumbling block to success in Frank Longridge. The Moose Jaw star, well known here, is the present Saskatchewan titlist.

Blistering Stampeder Rally Muffles Lethbridge Leafs 7-5 in Third Game

CALGARY, March 11.—(CP)—Staging another of their famous "late starts," Calgary Stampeders last night ran in six straight goals in the second and third periods for a 7-5 victory over Lethbridge Maple Leafs in the third game of their best-of-five Western Canada Hockey league semi-final series.

Victory gave Stampeders a 2-1 lead in the series. Stamps won the opening game here 7-6 and lost 5-3 at Lethbridge Monday. Fourth game will be played at Lethbridge Friday.

With goalie Malile Hughes playing a standout game in the Lethbridge nets, Leafs picked their spots to pile up a 4-1 lead in the opening period and increased it to 5-1 at the three-minute of the second before Calgary rallied to tie the score at 5-5 and then went on to tally the only two goals of the final frame.

Leafs' opportunist Steve Latoski-Grant Hall-Roy Heximer line again proved the sparkplug of the Lethbridge attack, scoring four goals and assisting on the fifth. Heximer tallied three times for the hat-trick, while Latoski and defenceman Jack Taggart got the others. Hall picked up four assists for the night, while Latoski was credited with three helpers.

WILDER IN FORM

Doug Cairns and Dunc Grant lead Calgary marksmen with a brace of goals apiece, while Bud Emery, Archie Wilder and Don Culley scored singletons. Wilder lead the individual scoring for Stamps with a brace of assists besides his one goal.

An interference penalty to Ralph Luke of Leafs paved the way for the Calgary rally after Lethbridge had stunned a capacity crowd of more than 5,200 fans by taking a 5-3 lead at the opening of the second period. Calgary rapped home two fast goals on power plays with Bud Emery and Grant scoring while enjoying the man advantage.

Stamps never lost the spark and continued to send a barrage of rubber at Hughes for the remainder of the night to win going away.

Leafs took only eight shots at Russ Dertell in the Calgary net in the opening period, but made half of them count as they bored right in on top of the goal to give the Calgary netminder no chance to save. Latoski tallied the first on a pass from Hall and the latter set Heximer up just after the mid-way mark to make the score 2-0. Taggart batted in Latoski's goal-mouth pass for the third Leaf counter just a minute later and Heximer made the score 4-1 on a pretty passing play with Hall after Cairns had tallied the first Stampeder goal.

Lethbridge appeared headed for a one-sided triumph as Heximer polished off a three-way play with Hall and Latoski at the opening of the second, but Luke's penalty turned the tables.

CULLEY SCORED

Don Culley scored from a scramble in front of the Lethbridge net after Emery and Grant's power-play goals and Grant tallied the tying goal with less than four minutes remaining in the second period when Hergert passed ahead to give him a shot at Hughes.

Lethbridge lost a golden opportunity to vault back into the lead just after the final period got underway as Tony Desmarais was sent off but Calgary threw up a tight defence and Leafs failed to get a single shot on the Calgary net.

Archie Wilder tallied the winning goal at the 12-minute mark when he batted in Butch McDonald's rebound and Cairns ended the scoring five minutes later on a breakaway with Bunny Dame.

Dertell had a comparatively easy time in the nets, kicking out 19 shots while Hughes was called on to turn aside 42 close-in drives besides the seven that evaded him.

Lineups:

Lethbridge—Hughes; Taggart, Boorman; Latoski; Heximer, Hall. Subs: Nordin, Gibson, Simpson, Kirkpatrick, Menzies, Thomas, Luke, Gray.

Calgary—Dertell; Emery, Wilder; Cairns; Desmarais, Dame. Subs: McDonald, Gerrie, Culley, Hunter, Brownridge, Grant, Stewart, Hergert.

Officials—Hedley Hall, Saskatoon; Red Kerr, Winnipeg.

Summary

First Period: Lethbridge, Latoski (Hall) 1:50; Lethbridge, Heximer (Hall, Latoski) 12:03; Lethbridge, Taggart (Latoski) 12:14; Calgary, Cairns (Desmarais) 17:45; Lethbridge, Heximer (Hall) 19:36. Penalties—none.

Second Period: Lethbridge, Heximer (Hall, Latoski) 3:00; Calgary, Emery (Hunter) 5:36; Calgary, Grant (Brownridge, Wilder) 7:45; Calgary, Culley (Hergert) 12:30; Calgary, Grant (Hunter) 16:17. Penalty—Luke (2).

Third Period: Calgary, Wilder (McDonald) 2:05; Calgary, Cairns (Dame, Wilder) 17:20. Penalty—Desmarais.

Ehrle Weighs Retirement Before 1948-49 WCHL Season Calls Regina Caps

Cliff Ehrle isn't certain he'll be in the Regina hockey picture next season. As co-partner of Bill (Red) Hunter in the promotion of the Queen City Caps of the Western Canada Hockey loop the native of North Dakota had a fair share of thrills and disappointments as the 1947-48 schedule ran its course.

At the same time his business interests, centred mainly in the hotel game, have suffered to some extent. This pains Ehrle as naturally it would. There's the added worry of trying to keep Caps' financial head above water. In this respect it's generally agreed around the WCHL that the Regina pay-roll is the fattes: of all.

"I like hockey and think we have as grand a bunch of fellows on our club as can be found in the game," he got it off at a bun-fest Wednesday. "But about next year I dunno . . ."

Ehrle has proven a real asset to the league as a whole and Regina, particularly. Quiet and not given to histrionic he makes a fine running mate for the volatile Hunter. Between them they have put Caps, once a doormat club, "back in the league".

It's to be hoped that Ehrle sees fit to stay with the Reginans for a long time to come.

Cundal Plans Strong Club

Harold Cundal was an Edmonton visitor on Wednesday. He's the Calgary oil-man whose Purity 99 aggregation licked through the stretch at a lightning gait last August to put the grab on Big Four Inter-City Baseball League laurels.

"Positively we're the team to beat again this season," he bragged a few hours after hitting the main stem. Then he disclosed that his hurling aces, Big John Carpentier and Joe Kanik, will be on deck for the 1948 campaign. He has strings out for a shortstop who, besides being able to go and get 'em, figures to get his share of hits against Big Four hurlers.

While in the city Cundal conferred with Henry Roche, Big Four prexy, as well as John Ducey and John Beatty, Renfrew Park lessees.

Opening date has been set for May 14. The schedule has been ballooned slightly, calling for each team to play 75 games. Before the end of the month Ducey and Sam Timmins, business manager of the Calgary Buffaloes, will be in California . . . visiting the training camps of the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Ducey Beatty duo can't wait until Renfrew Park is free of snow. They want a look at the grass infield put in just before winter took over in this part of the world.

It may be the hockey season, but it can't be proven by the behind-the-scenes actions of the diamond leaders.

Like the ballisteer itchy to get out his favorite glove and take to tossing a ball around Roche, Cundal, Beatty, Ducey and more want to get going.

And it won't be long now.

Apologies to All Poets

The following—by Henry Butli—is strictly apropos, considering that quick tryst which Frank Currie's battling Flyers have with Regina tonight at the Arena:

Daddy there's a game tonight,
Regina and Flyers in Allan Cup fight,
Daddy this game we must see,
Root for our team and boo the referee.

Daddy, oh daddy, I will be good,
Buy your smokes and eat all my food,
But daddy, daddy please be true
We've got to be there to boo the foe.

I'm so excited I think I'll burst,
Let's get our tickets and be there first.
We'll crowd in the bleachers way up high.
And cheer our team to do or die.

And when the game is won at last,
Then we'll go home to a well-earned rest.
And, daddy, if your throat's a bit lame,
The Flyers won, so why complain.

Remember Hauger, Apperson?

Just winding up: A layout of the Eskimo baseball squad of 1921 is at hand. It serves to remind again of the late Art Hauger, Jolly Mee, Phil Apperson, Gib Stokke, Heinie Manush, Floyd (Babe) Herman and more Diamond Park heroes of a by-gone day. . . . The prized keepsake belongs to Sid (Catch) Varnon, a starry backstop with the old Kelowna "Apple Baskets" of the Gay Nineties, . . . A few of the boys got together yesterday to cut up touches by way of marking a visit from Varnon's pop, now of Calgary. . . . Bob Mathieson, Cliff Ehrle, Art Carlson, Jack Starky, George Howsam, Bill Hunter and Joe Fisher were among those sitting in on the fun. . . . Attention S. E. Harris: If lacrosse isn't dead it's the next thing to it. . . . Suggest you get in touch with Miles Palmer. He will "gen" you for fair as to its present sorry state—by coast standards. . . . Two will get you five Flyers have Caps in the top drawer by 12:00 midnight.

Lacombe's Juveniles Sift to Alberta Final

STETTLER, March 11.—Lacombe scored an easy 11-3 triumph over Stettler last night to advance to the provincial juvenile hockey finals. In the first game of the total-goal series, played in Lacombe, the count was 9-2, making it 20-5 on the round.

Counters by Frizzell, Rusk, Haworth and Holmes staked Lacombe to a 4-0 edge in the first period and the visitors never looked like losing.

Lacombe's margin had risen to 6-0 at the end of the middle frame and Winkelaar also dominated play in a wide-open third period.

Duncan, Gillespie and Jim Ramsay tallied for Stettler.

Lund and Holmes, with three goals apiece, paced the visitors.

25 Years Ago

From The Bulletin Sports Files

Regina Capitals handed Edmonton its first setback of the season on home ice last night when they edged Eskimos 2-1 at the Arena. It was Edmonton's last game of the schedule with Caps. Dick Irvin and "Rabbit" McVeigh notched the Regina goals, while Duke Keats scored on Ty Arbour's relay for the homesters.

The curtain rang down on the professional hockey season in Saskatoon last night when Crescents defeated Calgary Tigers 6-3. Rookie Wally Elmer paced the victors' attack with two goals and a like number of assists. Other Sunkatoon marksmen were Cook (2), Smith and Newsy Lalonde. For the visitors, Red Dutton made a noise like thunder, and Crawford, Oliver and Fisher also shone.

Junior Basketball Series Postponed

The playoff basketball fare at the RCAF gym tonight has been reduced to a single game.

Precision Machine and Latter Day Saints will carry on their feud in the Northern intermediate final, with Precision gunning for their second straight, but the 'Y' Toilers and Varsity Bearcats have postponed their junior series till a later date. The Bearcats won the opener in the Northern final.

IT'S NO FUN sitting on cold, hard canvas, but officials decided Merton Whitesall was better off there than facing the fury of Bill Spring's gloves, so they awarded Spring a TKO mid-way through the second round of their bout in the Northern Alberta amateur boxing eliminations at HMCS Nonsuch last night. The finals will be fought at the same place tonight, with a number of bouts that promise to pack plenty of action scheduled. —Photo by Bland.

70-Pounders Steal Show In Northern Eliminations

They dashed up leather by the bushel at the HMCS Nonsuch last night as the Northern Alberta Boxing finals opened, while two young game-cocks in the 70-pound class stole the hearts of the onlookers and provided the most laughs.

Finals are scheduled for tonight.

The "kids" were Neil Neville, who looked like a miniature of the famous Jack Dempsey, and Herby Lutez, as game as they come and chock-full of fight.

Neil won the nod, but the judges and referee had their work cut out arriving at a split decision, for there wasn't much to choose between the boys. Neil kept his right waving and poised for action—he could use it too —and appeared to have a little harder punch than his adversary.

Both lads drew rounds of applause from the fair-sized crowd for their gameness and all-round boxing finesse.

LIVELY CARD

It was a card filled with action. There were 21 bouts and the results included three knockouts, two technical knockouts, three split decisions and 13 decisions.

The ringsters have something extra to shoot at this year. Besides the provincial finals, which are billed for March 31 and April 1 in Edmonton, the Alberta champs will engage in the Westward Canada finals and Olympic trials in Vancouver, and if they survive, will go to Montreal for the Canadian championships and Olympic trials. Those who make the Olympic team will go directly to London from Montreal.

Gerald Dahms proved to be an all-out hitter with a sting behind every blow. He bumped into another boy who liked to mix it up. Arthur Colley of the Sea Cadets, but Art ran into one of Gerald's "sleepers" and it was all over.

Other kayoes were scored by Frank Leadley, a two-fisted hitter, who had too much power and polish for Archie Beare, and Buddy McDonald, who caught Bob May on the chin with a beautiful left for a six-count and seconds later gave him the full treatment.

Bill Spring started the TKO parade, slugging Merton Whitesall into submission midway through the second round. Whitesall was no match for the hard-clouting Spring.

Charlie French packed too many "sleeping powders" in each hand for Lorne Thomas. He kept boring in and finished off the rangy "Y" fighter with a left to the midsection and a right cross to the jaw. Officials contended these were enough.

RESPECTED EACH OTHER

The Gordon Riddell-Jimmy Ego match, which was expected to produce plenty of fireworks, was a little on the disappointing side. Both lads appeared to have a lot of respect for each other and didn't mix it too frequently. Riddell had a decided edge in the exchanges, however, and won a clear-cut decision.

Oscar Kruger continued his winning ways by outpointing Johnny Erwin. It was Oscar's fight all the way and only Erwin's artful boxing and dodging prevented a kayo.

Pete Nuthall, curly-headed Jasper Place bruiser, failed to land one of his notorious haymakers on one of Lloyd Mayes' vital spots, but nevertheless emerged with a decision. Mayes showed considerable improvement over his last outing when he was kayoed by Jim Parker. He rolled up a lot of points with a straight left that had Nuthall bufflooked most of the way.

Following are the results:

135-Pound Novice

W. Alexandruk, Sea Cadets, decisioned Jerry Smith, Sea Cadets; Bill Spring, YMCA, scored TKO over Merton Whitesall, Sea Cadets, in second; Don McAdie, Sea Cadets, decisioned Geo. Huth, SS Legion; Arthur Joyce, Alberta W., decisioned Jim McAdie, Sea Cadets; David Bernier, Sea Cadets, decisioned Morris Excalier, Ed. Boxing Club.

147-Pound Novice

"Cyclone" Taylor Still Hits Net

VANCOUVER, March 11.—(CP)—Fred (Cyclone) Taylor dipsydoodled before 6,000 fans last night and led his tiring troops of hockey greats to a 1-1 tie with Vancouver Lions of 10 years ago.

In fact they all dipsy-doodled, including "Duke" Keats, former Edmonton ice ace.

Joe Jerwa of Lions shuffled in on Porky Levitt at 6:42 of the first period, bellowed and banged the rubber over the former Ottawa Rough shoulder.

Jimmy Ward fumed for five minutes of the second and final period before he scored to earn the tie.

The game was part of a mammoth ice benefit extravaganza for the British food parcel fund.

175-Pound Novice

Pete Nuthall, Rec., decisioned Lloyd Mayes, YMCA; Charlie French, Alberta W., scored TKO over Lorne Thomas, YMCA.

Gordon Riddell, Rec., decisioned Jim Ego, EBC.

135-Pound Novice

Bill Spring decisioned David Benloy (second appearance for both boys).

80-Pound Class

James Cross decisioned Keith Fleming, Jasper Place.

Late Boston Splurge Subdues Rangers 6-3

BOSTON, March 11.—(AP)—Boston Bruins last night scored three goals in the fateful second period to defeat New York Rangers 6-3 and move within two points of clinching a National Hockey League playoff berth before a capacity 13,090 gathering. Despite the loss, Rangers need only one point to assure themselves of participating in the Stanley Cup series.

The final Boston goal was scored one second before the game's end when Kenny Smith dribbled a shot from back of his own blue line into an unguarded New York net.

With a face-off coming up in the Boston end of the rink and the play shoaling in front of Rangers' goal, referees removed goaler Jim Henry, sending six skaters onto the ice.

New York managed to keep the puck in Boston territory until Henderson filched it from the attacking Rangers and passed forward to Smith, who scored the final goal.

Nineteen-year-old Paul Ronty, recently recalled from the Bruins' Hershey farm club, set up Henderson's last four goals and scored another.

Through the first two periods the teams were deadlocked, each scoring once in the first session and twice in the second.

Bruins forced the action steadily in the early part of the finale and the ganging tactics eventually paid off as Johnny Pierson, in combination with Ronty and Smith, whacked in a goal at 6:17.

Pierson and Ronty combined again at 14:54 with Ronty taking a passout from Pierson, pivoting to avoid three Rangers and back handing the disc past the hard-working Henry.

New York's Tony Leswick began the scoring at 3:07 of the first period and Bruins equalized less than a minute later when Fern Flaman carried down the right lane and Pete Babando drilled in the score.

Jimmy Peters scored Boston's second goal 23 seconds after the start of the second session. Eight minutes later Leswick sank his second goal.

Kenny Smith caged Ronty's pass for the third Boston goal at 13:42 and New York's last marker came after a scramble at 15:44.

Ronty was filling in for the suspended Don Gallinger whose absence brought no reaction whatsoever from the audience.

Lineups:

New York—Henry: Lamirande, Eddolls; Laprade; Kullman, Leswick. Boston—Brimsek; Crawford, Henderson, Schmidt; Peters, Stewart, Bodnar; Egan, Sandford, Flaman, Warwick, Harrison, Smith, Martin, Ronty, Pierson, Babando.

Referee—Bill Chadwick. Linesmen—Ray Getliffe, Sibby Murdoch.

Summary:

First Period: New York, Leswick (Laprade) 3:07; Boston, Babando (Flaman) 4:05. Penalties—Lamirande, Sandford.

Second Period: Boston, Peters (Dumart, Schmidt) :30; New York, Leswick (Kullman, Moe) 8:38; Boston, Smith (Ronty) 13:42. New York, Kullman 15:44. Penalties—none.

Third Period: Boston, Pierson (Ronty, Smith) 6:17; Boston, Ronty (Pierson) 14:54; Boston, Smith (Henderson) 19:56. Penalties—Eddolls, Harrison.

Excitement Rises as NHL Sweeps Into Home Stretch

TORONTO, March 11.—(CP)—Everything points to last-minute excitement all down the line as the National Hockey League heads into the home stretch leading to Stanley Cup playoffs in which players will share a money pot in excess of $200,000.

League governors soon will set playoff dates for hockey's world crown, but although the four competing teams seem fairly definite, it looks like a race to the wire for both first and third positions. Most experts are counting Chicago Black Hawks and Montreal Canadiens out of the charmed circle.

The champion Toronto Maple Leafs and Detroit Red Wings may settle the league title in a final week-end double-header which finds them stacked against each other in Toronto, March 20, and in Detroit the following night.

Final position means plenty to players involved and in the case of the Leafs and Wings it amounts to a difference of $500. First-place team players receive $1,900 each whereas the second placers settle for $500, third $350, and fourth placers $150.

Something new has been added to this year's playoffs and it will cost each cash customer 25 cents additional on each ticket—the extra income to go towards the players' pension fund. It is estimated this figure could reach $80,000 after amusement tax is removed and already there is $26,000 in the fund from the All-Star game last fall.

As the season draws to a close, the battles also become keener for the scoring title and the Vezina goaltending trophy. With Bud Poile Gaye Stewart outdistancing the field in late scoring scrimmages, there's a fair chance the two members of the lowly Hawks may finish one-two, passing New York's Buddy O'Connor, consistent leader since mid-season.

Harry Lumley of Detroit and Toronto's Turk Broda are tied for goalkeeping honors. Both clubs have been scored on 133 times.

Only One Top Mark Topples in Bowling

Edmonton's alley sharpies kept spreading the mapies with monotonous regularity yesterday, but all the previously established top marks remained intact, with the exception of the B doubles, as the annual five-pin tourney moved into its fifth day.

A contingent of players arrived from Dawson Creek last night and top-notchers are expected to arrive from Vancouver, Calgary and Saskatoon on Thursday or Friday.

DROP A NOTCH

Alice Hodgins and Edith Hicks were shunted down into second place in the B doubles event when D. Gilland and J. Bergen posted a lofty 1,140 score. The runners-up are just six points behind.

Norman Nord and Bill Sidor were ushered into the also rans in the A doubles when their 1,641 score was surpassed by Isobel Griffin and Lee Foster, who were in the groove, to post 1,710.

The Slick Chicks and Windy Wrecks, who held second and third places, respectively, in the C teams event, were blown right out of the "money" circle. Chryslers moved into second place with 2,853 and Swing Frames swung into third spot with 2,828.

No Congress Aid For Alien Reds

Request to Prevent Ejection Thrown Overboard By CCL

By John Lebiane

OTTAWA, March 11.—(CP)—Targets of the government's drive against the entry of alien Communists—suspect United States labor organizers operating in the northern Ontario gold-mining field—have been thrown overboard by the Canadian Congress of Labor.

The CCL has rejected a request from one of its affiliates, the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, that it take steps to halt the ejection from Canada of five smelter union organizers from the U.S.

TO GET NO HELP

In disclosing this action yesterday, the congress administered a stern boot to the hopes of any Communist suspects seeking help against the government ban of on non-Canadian Communists entering the country.

Ban was disclosed last week, though it has not yet been announced officially by the Dominion government.

Congress—in a joint statement by President A. R. Mosher and Secretary-treasurer Pat Conroy—declared it had rejected a smelters' union request for help on behalf of five men "alleged to be members of, or closely affiliated with, the Communist party of the United States."

IMPORTED ORGANIZERS

It added that the smelters' union had been importing organizers, "all under suspicion with regard to their political affiliations," and thereby had "supplied reactionary employers with ammunition" they would otherwise not possess."

DOG OFFENDED, BITES MISTRESS

PARIS, March 11.—(Reuters)—Mme. Philippart, a Paris woman who went down on all fours to bark at her prize 85,000 francs ($400) Alsatian dog, yesterday went to a clinic here to have treatment for bites on the arm and face.

Her dog, Rato Taro, took exception to her imitation of his bark and attacked her. Yesterday he was on his way to a kennel, accused by Mme. Philippart, in a deposition to annul her purchase, of "hidden viciousness."

This portrait of a disgruntled cat took first prize in the general pictorial class of a world-wide photographic contest sponsored by U.S. Army for Army and Air Force personnel. Titled "Sour Puss," the picture was taken by S/Sgt. Fred X. Moore, of Riverside, Calif.

Port Bruins Take 3-0 Series Edge

PORT ARTHUR, March 11.—(CP)—Despite having a woman as acting coach, Fort William Columbus club failed to halt the rejuvenated Port Arthur West End Bruins last night in the fourth game of their best-of-seven series for the Thunder Bay junior hockey championship, losing 8-5. The game gave Bruins a 3-0 edge in the series, with one match having been tied.

Mrs. Leo Barbini, wife of the Fort William coach who was suspended Monday night after pulling his team off the ice in the third period in protest against officiating, was announced as coach for the game.

Actually, however, player Maurice Levesque, sidelined earlier this season following an operation, directed the Fort William players.

What Are You Going To Do With Your Compulsory Savings Refund?

NEW LOOK will get another booster when Florence Fraser 9004 153 Street, greets postman carrying her compulsory savings cheque. "I'll get a whole new outfit," she said, "because I don't think any of the clothes we have now will be of any use to us any more."

BLACK GOLD has a lure for one Edmonton beauty. "I intend to use my compulsory savings to invest in oil stock," said Joyce Farrell, 10939 89 Ave. Cheques totalling $93,000,000 will soon be on the way to 26,463 Edmontonians from the federal treasury in Ottawa.

TIRED OF WALKING, Mrs. Jack Austin, 11311 61 Street, will use her share of soon-to-be-returned compulsory savings to purchase transportation. "I'll spend it on a down payment for a brand new car," she told The Bulletin's inquiring reporter and cameraman.

EYE FOR FUTURE has this young lady. When asked what she will do with her 1942 compulsory savings Jessie Spence, 9672 86 Ave. replied "Put it in the bank and save it." For some this will represent quite a large saving as treasury department authorities say cheques range up to hundreds of dollars.

CCF Leader Ires Speaker to Threat

Speaker Dawson threatened Wednesday to "name" Elmer Roper, Alberta C.C.F. leader, unless he obeyed house rules. Turmoil broke out in the legislature after Roper had taken issue with statements made by Hon. Lucien Maynard, attorney general.

Cabinet minister was closing debate on a resolution to request federal government to re-convene Dominion-provincial conferences. He quoted a resolution which had been given unanimous approval of legislature in 1946.

With approval of Speaker Mr. Roper asked "Has this resolution anything to do with Dominion-provincial conference?"

When the attorney-general started to speak again he was not answering the CCF member's question, or so Mr. Roper thought, so he half-rose again demanding "Answer the question."

"I am sorry the honorable member was not paying attention—" Mr. Maynard said.

"Answer the question," Roper called and shouts of "order" were heard from the Speaker and government members.

"Can he get away with statements that aren't true?" Mr. Roper asked the speaker angrily.

"If the honorable member does not obey rules of the house, I will have to 'name' him," Speaker Dawson said.

This threat quelled the tumult, though Roper could be heard to say "I get interrupted myself sometimes."

"It is always awkward to be caught in an inconsistency," the attorney-general smiled and said he did not blame the CCF leader for being agitated.

REGINA—In a sensational ten minutes in Saskatchewan's legislature Wednesday, A. T. Proctor, Liberal member for Moosomin, was named by the Speaker and suspended from the days sitting of the house.

Proctor was named and suspended for calling Premier T. C. Douglas, who was absent from the house: "a stinking skunk."

Lend-lease and reverse lend-lease between India and the United States in the Second World War approximately balanced each other.

METER NUISANCE MAY CAUSE MOVE

Parking meters may cause one B.C. municipality to move their offices.

Charles H. Grant, president of Alberta Motor Association, revealed here Reeve D. D. Chapman of North Cowichan municipality has threatened to move municipal offices from Duncan, B.C. because of parking meter nuisance.

Word received from Victoria indicates additions may be necessary to that city's police force to check meters.

Disease Cases Down in February

Total of 279 cases of communicable disease was reported to the city health department during February compared with 367 in January and 615 in February of last year, members of the local Board of Health were told Wednesday. Dr. G. M. Little, medical officer of health, gave the report.

He also said a number of cases carrying virulent diphtheria came to attention of the department, but no clinical cases were reported.

Reporting on an inspection of south side detention home, Dr. Little said "it is now clean, bright and admirably fitted for its purpose."

There were 282 births during February with 72 deaths, compared with 334 births and 79 deaths in February, 1947.

Attendance at immunization clinic totalled 1,062, with 492 new cases reporting. Attendance at the "well baby" clinic was 784.

Food inspectors condemned 2,320 pounds of meat during February.

Attorney-General Assails Liesemer

Newspaper clippings from two-year-old files of Edmonton newspapers were read Wednesday afternoon in the legislature.

Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C. Attorney-general closing debate on a resolution he was sponsoring for reconvening of the Dominion-provincial conferences read extracts from reported speeches made at that time by Elmer E. Roper (CCF Edmonton) and Harper Prowse (Army) Alberta Liberal leader. They were in support of a resolution then before the house asking for increased federal government subsidies for post war period.

The two party leaders were inconsistent in their attacks on his resolution this year, he contended as he assailed arguments each had advanced during the debate on the resolution.

Charges that resolutions were "political propagandizing "because they set forth some Social Credit philosophy were "fantastic" he said when they came from A. J. A. Liesemer (CCF Calgary) who, with his desk partner Elmer E. Roper, was guilty of using the floor of the assembly to advance his own political theories more than any other member.

Justice Ford Grants Decrees

Nine decrees nisi of divorce were granted in supreme court Wednesday by Mr. Justice C. J. Ford.

Decrees were granted to: William H. Gordon from Doris M. Gordon; James H. MacAllister from Lucille A. C. MacAllister; Esther Evenson from Leonard Evenson; Martin A. Schultz from Fay M. Schultz; Albert M. Fuhrer from Muriel J. Fuhrer.

Francis A. W. Townsend from Clifton G. W. Townsend; Peter Roshko from Helen Roshko; Jack Abbott from Yvonne E. Abbott, and Julia L. Anglin from Elbert J. Anglin.

Beehive houses—primitive dwellings in Scotland and Ireland—were conical and constructed of stones without mortar.

Labor Campaigns For Compensation Act Amendments

Federated Bodies Send Brief to House Members

Serious consideration by provincial legislature of proposals from Alberta Federation of Labor in respect to Workmen's Compensation Act changes is urged in a brief to be sent all members of the house.

Copies of federation's proposals have been sent 147 trade unions affiliated with the federation. Herbert G. Turner, secretary of Edmonton Trades and Labor Council, has received a copy here.

Each affilliated union is asked to advise its constituency member of legislaure the federation proposals have been endorsed.

Labor's brief asks more safety inspectors be appointed and the province zoned so each inspector will have a definite territory.

While greeting with satisfaction increase from $40 to $50 a month in pensions payable to dependent widows or dependent invalid widowers labor asks further consideration of its request for $60 per month to widows and $18 monthly to dependent children.

Increase from $15 to $25 for medical needs in illness cases is asked.

Foster mothers should not lose pensions when dependent children have reached the age of 18 in the view of the federation.

Compensation at 100 percent of earnings instead of basis of 75 percent now operative in cases of accident, is urged on grounds cost-of-living increased 13 percent in first 11 months of 1947.

It is pointed out use of $2,000 as yearly wage on which compensations is pegged is unfair as wages have gone up since this provision was fixed.

Labor asked the sum be set at $2,500 as a minimum and preferably $3,000.

As provincial statute fixes male minimum wage at $25 per week it is suggested compensation be not below that figure, instead of $15 per week as proposed.

NEW DEPARTMENT DUE BILLS GIVEN READING

Bills to establish a department of lands and forests and a department of mines were given first reading in Alberta legislature Wednesday.

The two new departments will replace the department of lands and mines, now headed by Hon. N. E. Tanner.

The lands and mines minister introduced legislation, and said it would take at least six months to separate the new branches and that they would not operate as departments until April, 1949.

Oddfellows Open Session

Annual Grand Encampment of Alberta Oddfellows will open Thursday in Masonic Temple. About 75 members from subordinate encampments throughout Alberta are attending. This is the 36th annual encampment in the province.

A. W. Sheffield, grand patriarch, from Calgary, will preside. Preliminary sessions Wednesday and registration were held in the IOOF hall, 103 street.

Mayor H. D. Ainlay will welcome delegates in Masonic Temple.

Banquet and dance will be held Thursday evening in the Temple, at which E. G. Ellerton of Medicine Hat will be speaker.

Free Medical Service Forecast for Alberta

Possibility the province would soon be able to give free medical and hospital care to Alberta residents was forecast by Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health, as he spoke in budget debate Wednesday.

He said the province is now paying 50 per cent of all hospital care including tuberculosis and poliomyelitis treatments, and is paying 35 per cent of general hospital costs.

If the federal government would pay grants supposed to be forthcoming following tax-transfer agreement, there would be little difficulty experienced in offering free service, he thought.

He envisioned a network of municipal hospitals across the province to which people could go as health centres for examinations, immunizations and treatments. There are now 57 such hospitals established, five new ones are being built and votes are being taken in seven further areas, he said.

Alberta has more hospital beds in proportion to population than any other province, he claimed. At the end of 1946 there were 7.3 beds per thousand population and this has since been increased.

TREASURY BRANCHES SPOTLIGHTED

Government Finance Aim Assailed by Grit Leader

Provincial government activities on roads and in treasury branches were examples of waste and extravagance, Harper Prowse (Army) Alberta Liberal leader told legislators during budget debate Wednesday.

He charged treasury branches had advanced large sums to industries, naming Golden Fleece Woolen Mills at Magrath as having received $122,000, and O'Sullivan Construction company as getting $174,000.

He doubted the wisdom of latter advance which permitted this company to compete with others for Alberta road-building contracts.

Since treasury branches are a "state" bank, Mr. Prowse felt legislators should be at liberty to examine accounts of the bank, as he predicted "grief" from operation of them when present period of buoyant financing is over.

Waste in road construction is shown by a study of report of Research Council of Alberta which had studied construction and road beds in the province and had found sub-surface conditions lead to road deterioration.

He felt it was poor business to "skimp on preliminary expenditure" when such economy would be felt by greatly increased expenditures later, and urged building roads, that would "stand up," even if it meant borrowing money for the purpose.

It was good business practice to borrow money for capital expenditures, he pointed out.

Housewife Must Be Economical Wizard

By Bea Thrifty

Today every successful homemaker must be not only a good nutritionist, but also an economical wizard and a market expert. Spring is being ushered in to the solemn tune of austerity, and every housewife must give her pennies an extra squeeze.

I'm all for those pyrex custard cups, specially when I'm trying to cook supper in a hurry. You can make individual chicken or meat pies in a flash. The ovenware dishes only cost 7 or 8c a piece—no kitchen is complete without at least ½ dozen.

Mentioning chicken pies reminds me of a delicious biscuit topping. Cut out biscuits with a doughnut cutter. Arrange on individual pies. Serve with stuffed olives tucked into biscuit rings. A party dressing for an old-fashioned dish.

Tired of fussing with starch on a busy wash-day?

Whole business of mixing and boiling starch can be eliminated by buying new liquid starch for 25c a bottle. I noticed this in a little out-of-the-way shop- and right away resolved to get some before next blue Monday rolls around.

* * *

Out for a casual evening of lazy conversation with friends the other eve and was intrigued with tall, tall glasses trotted out when refreshment time came. Snooped about in city stores next day and discovered some similar ones selling eight for $3.95. I don't know whether it was the tall slimness of the glass that appealed to me—or the quantity they managed to hold.

* * *

Remember when tinned tomatoes sold 2 for 25c! Well you're lucky if you can buy them for 28c these high-price days.

* * *

Kids love chocolate-chip cookies and one 39c package of chocolate bits will see you through a batch of goodies. Watch their eyes pop with delight when you produce them.

* * *

Getting something for nothing always appeals to me. And if getting two pounds of fresh coffee doesn't hit home with you—there's something the matter with your bargain reflexes. You pay $1.25 and take home two pounds of coffee and container.

* * *

Swish check taffeta dickie to go with your spring fashion story suit—just the right note to finish your costume and you can have it for $3.50.

* * *

While we're waiting for the robin on the wing—it's a good time to do a bit of rejuvenating on the make-up job. Complexions take a beating this time of year and it's a smart plan to do something about it now—before spring fever begins to work its magic.

I know a beauty-fair who makes oatmeal bags and uses them as washcloths, when her skin is feeling especially dry. One spoon of uncooked oatmeal in a small cheesecloth square, dipped in warm water and applied to your face is her skin-softener idea.

A smooth, satiny lipstick put out by famous cosmetic company is selling these days with a small box of blended face powder—for $1.50. Lipstick alone usually sells for $1.50.

A Lovely Wedding Requires Planning

While the thought of your wedding ahead may bring dreamy visions of apple blossom and balmy breezes, still there are a number of down-to-earth details to be taken care of.

The wedding expenses for one thing are the responsibility of the bride's family, with certain exceptions.

The bride pays for her wedding ensemble, her personal and household trousseau, invitations and announcements, gifts to her attendants, bouquets for the attendants (optional), and wedding photos.

Her family also pays for all expenses connected with the church, decorations, organist, food, music, service and cars for transporting the bridal party to church.

The groom is responsible for the marriage license, wedding ring, clergyman's fee, gifts to bride, best man and ushers, corsages for bride and his mother, boutonnieres for bride's father, the groom's father, best man and ushers, and the wedding trip.

Confused about invitations? The reception? The receiving line? Acknowledging gifts? The Edmonton Bulletin has prepared a wedding guide for all prospective brides. It answers your questions and offers valuable advice and suggestions.

EXERCISES which relax the neck and spinal muscles, like the one Actress Gloria Henry is doing above, will help you overcome fatigue.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

The need for relaxation is a desperate cry in this modern world. Not relaxation in night clubs or all night poker games or overexerting golf tournaments, but relaxation of the mind and spirit and body in seemingly homely and prosaic ways.

We hurry and worry and work. We compete and struggle and compromise and hate, and then wonder why we are tired at the end of a day.

If we could take the emotional factor out of our work, fear, incompatability, boredom and discouragement, then we would find word stimulating rather than fatiguing.

Yet, as individuals, we must fit ourselves into a big picture which we do not understand. We are a cog in the machine and in some way it seems necessary that we live up to preconceived standards. Naturally we have repercussions which are emotional and mental but which are reflected in seeming physical fatigue.

There are many tricks which the tired housewife or business man or career woman can learn in order to sidestep this kind of tiredness. These are tricks in relaxation. One is the trick of sloughing off the problems of the day, once they are over.

Evening should provide a stopgap in pressure which will reinforce your energies for tomorrow. Yet many husbands and wives spend their evenings in rehashing the difficulties of the day.

After office hours should produce a mental cutoff. Anyone can do this with a little mental discipline and practice.

Physical exercise can also play a great and important part in overcoming office or household fatigue. When we are tired we feel tired and tense through the spine and especially at the back of the neck.

You will find the following exercise relaxing. Stand tall with your feet comfortably separated. Let the trunk and the arms and head flop downward. Swing the arms between the legs, trying to spank yourself. Raise your trunk and head and arms to shoulder height, palms facing forward and lower your head backward. Continue in a relaxed manner.

If you wish to have my exercise routine for relaxation send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 24 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

WOMEN STILL OUTLIVE MEN

NEW YORK, March 11.—(AP)—American males are living longer than they used to but still aren't doing as well as the women, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company says.

In 1900, the average white male infant had 40 chances in 100 of reaching age 65. Now, the company reports his chances are 60 in 100.

In 1900, however, the average white female infant had 45 chances in 100 of reaching the same goal. Now her chances are 75 in 100.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Is Allergy Inherited? Reactions are Varied

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

The reactions to allergies are many and varied. The most commonplace in infancy is eczema which is either a dry rash which flakes off, or a moist, oozing one.

Later in life these children though cured of their eczema may develop chronic constipation, diarrhea, asthma or hay fever. After adolescence they may be victims of migraine headaches.

Mrs. B. L. G. says one of her babies was born with eczema and that her five-year-old is chronically constipated. "Now, I am wondering," she writes, "if ammoniacal urine, which my nine months old baby suffers, could come from the same cause? Is allergy inherited? My husband has asthma.

"I've tried al kinds of things for this baby, anti-acids, eliminating starches, etc. He doesn't drink much water but his milk is half water. Would you suggest I sweeten the water to get him to take more of it?"

Sugar is a food and belongs in a formula not in drinking water. The tendency toward allergy is inherited. Your husband has one reaction toward foods or external factors in his environment, the children another. But ordinarily, the ammoniacal urine is not due to food sensitivity. It is more often caused by the way in which diapers are washed, which makes it possible for them to develop a vegetable organism which, when united with urine, results in ammonia.

In order to test this, soak your baby's diapers in vinegar water, or a preparation you can buy at the drugstore for this purpose. Then wash in soap suds and water in the usual way. Rinse twice, at least and hang up in the sun and air to dry. If this is impossible, then rinse the last time in water to which a strong boric acid solution has been added. Wring right out of this solution and hang up to dry.

If this doesn't banish the ammoniacal urine, then you should increase the baby's vegetable and fruit intake—as these are both alkaline in their influence. If the baby has any allergy it would be apt to be to milk, eggs, or wheat cereals.

You can use forms of those to which the baby might not react so strongly, though I am taking it for granted that in this particular case the ammonia will disappear when the diapers are treated to a more thorough laundering.

Our leaflet No. 9 "Diaper Care and Ammoniacal Urine," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of the Edmonton Bulletin.

Five Rebekahs Given Degree of Chivalry

Rebekah Assembly Holds 38th Annual Session

Degree of Chivalry was granted five members of the Rebekah Assembly of Alberta at civic reception of Grand Lodge, Independent Order of Oddfellows, at Masonic Temple Wednesday. More than 300 women are visitors in the city, attending 38th annual session of Rebekah Assembly, which opened Tuesday and is continuing until Friday.

His Worship, Mayor Harry D. Ainlay brought greetings from the city of Edmonton and commended the work and spirit of the organization.

Gordon S. McArthur, deputy grand master, welcomed guests on behalf of Edmonton members of the lodge.

Mrs. Bruce Morden, president of Rebekah Assembly, welcomed out-of-town Rebekahs and guests and lauded the accomplishments of the lodges in small Alberta towns.

Mrs. Nellie May Huntingford, Wainwright; Mrs. Evelyn Kennedy, Vanton; Mrs. Levina Fisher, Mrs. Bella Peterson, both of Three Hills; and Mrs. Rosina Dawson, Calgary, received the Degree of Chivalry for outstanding work in their lodges.

Major H. G. Sorenson, department commander of the Patriarchs militant, addressed members on plans for future activities of the lodge—"plans that will further the usefulness of each member." "The need of the world today, as never before, is friendship and brotherly love," said Major Sorenson.

E. G. Elleton, Medicine Hat, will address members at a banquet at the Masonic Temple Thursday. The subject of his address will be "Odd People Who Are Not Oddfellows."

Following the banquet, a dance will be held for members and friends.

Anglican Canon Frowns On Increased Drinking

TORONTO, March 11.—(CP)—Canon W. W. Judd, secretary of the Council for Social Service, Church of England in Canada, in a 16-page bulletin sent to all Anglican clergy, said "for the first time in Canadian history, women are drinking in public, and they are drinking more and more within their social circles."

Terming the increase of drinking in Canada a crisis, Canon Judd said "a very fearful element in the situation today is the presence of women on private drinking parties as well as in public places provided for them."

"Indeed for them, as well as for their young male friends, not to drink has become a reason for ostracism."

Hockey-Playing Children Need Understanding

Children who play hookey are usually very sick emotionally. The solution to their problems is not punishment, but understanding and sympathy, says Benjamin Fine, famous expert and writer on education, after extensive interviews with educators and truants. Discussing some of the causes of truancy and the enlightened measures that progressive communities are taking to meet the problem, he writes:

"Why do kids play hookey? To find the answer, I recently made an extensive study of truancy, securing information from education departments. In addition I interviewed scores of educators as well as hundreds of truants.

Most instructive of all was the day I spent sitting as a 'judge' in the office of a city attendance bureau, listening and talking to a stream of truant boys and girls.

"Educators have found that you simply cannot brow-beat or shame a child into going to school. They have learned that truancy is the symptom of a serious maladjustment.

Truants are emotionally sick children in need of love, not punishment.

"Unfavorable home conditions are, of course, only one of the causes of truancy. The school must also take its share of the blame.

Teachers who are harsh, unsympathetic and punitive have been responsible for the truancy of thousands of children. Because of insufficient funds, the classes in many schools are over-crowded and the equipment is inadequate.

Medical supervision in most schools is inadequate. Poor eyesight, hearing defects and reading disabilities can hamper a child, with the result that he becomes discouraged and stays away from school.

"Furthermore, many high school children object—and with good reason—to the studies they are given.

The curriculum is geared to the student who intends to go to college—but eight out of ten children never go beyond high school. Many would rather work with their hands.

"Truancy is most merked, my study found, in children attending the sixth, seventh and eighth grades—the group from 11 to 14. My study also disclosed that each individual case has its own particular cause. This was brought home to me forcefully during the day I spent as a 'judge' in a city attendance bureau.

PRIZE WINNING PLAYS by city actors, "Victoria Regina" and "Two Cowards," will be presented in Convocation Hall March 19. Directors Mrs. Elizabeth Sterling Haynes, Edmonton Community theatre, and R. H. G. Orchard, University of Alberta dramatic society, will use the same players who copped four of seven awards at Alberta Regional Drama festival in Calgary recently. Ticket sale opens at Heintzman's Monday.

Sound Reasoning On No-Trump Lead

By William E. McKenney

Against a no trump contract, where neither you nor your partner has participated in the bidding, the generally accepted rule is to lead the fourth best of your longest and strongest suit unless that suit is headed by three honors, at least two of which are touching.

For example, with a five-card suit headed by the queen-jack-ten, you should lead the queen; headed by the king-jack-ten, the jack, though some experts say they prefer the fourth best lead even with this holding.

But there are times when you should not open your longest and strongest suit. If your suit is worthless it is better to try to make an opening lead that will hit your partner.

No trump bids are usually made up of strength in the minor suits. In today's hand the fact that the opening bidder and his partner did not bid either of the majors might easily indicate that if East has anything, he has a major.

West's normal opening is the five of spades, but even if he established the spade suit he could never get in to cash it. Therefore he should try to hit his partner's suit. As I said before, no trump bids are usually based on sound minor suits, so West's lead is in the ten of hearts. Then it is impossible for declarer to make game.

Soviet Union May Whittle Claims Against Austria

LONDON, March 11.—(BUP)—Russia's Lt. Gen. Nicolai Koktomov conceded in the four-power foreign ministers council of deputies yesterday that Soviet claims against Austria might be whittled down.

American sources, describing today's two-hour discussion, said Koktomov indicated Russia would be willing to bargain if the western powers followed suit.

U.S. Delegate Samuel Reber indicated he was prepared to bargain. He repeated the United States suggestion that the deputies seek a compromise between Russia's claims and a French proposal, which would cut them about in half.

Palestine Tragic, Bitter Experience

LONDON, March 11.—(Reuters)—Colonial Secretary Arthur Creech Jones said yesterday that Britons "will not tolerate any new commitment in Palestine after our bitter and tragic experience."

Britain had given much for the fulfilment of international responsibilities and should not be asked to endure more, Creech Jones said opening a debate in the House of Commons on a government bill providing for the handing over of the Palestine mandate May 15.

"It is now for others to find and implement a solution which has eluded us."

Light Delicious Cakes For Spring-Time Parties

Spring parties are always welcomed by teen-agers and what party is complete without a scrumptious big cake, decorated with frothy icing?

Every housewife has her favorite cake recipe but delectable as it is, the family would probably welcome a different kind.

Here are a few tried and true goodies that will win favor with everyone:

• • •

DAFFODIL CAKE

1¼ cups egg whites
½ tsp. salt
1 tsp. cream of tartar
1 cup and 2 tbsps. sugar
¾ cup cake flour
½ tsp. vanilla flavoring
6 egg yolks
½ tsp. orange flavoring
2/3 cups cake flour

Put egg whites in very large platter and beat until foamy, add salt and cream of tartar, beat until stiff but not dry. Carefully fold in sugar. Divide mixture into two parts. To one part fold in ½ cup cake flour sifted five times and ½ tsp. vanilla. To other part fold in 6 egg yolks beaten until thick, 2/3 cup cake flour sifted five times and ½ tsp. orange flavoring. Drop by spoonful in unbuttered angel pan alternately white, then yellow. Bake in slow 300 degrees for 60 mins. Invert pan and let stand until cool.

• • •

PINK FEATHER CAKE

¾ cup butter
1½ cups white sugar
2 cups unsifted cake flour
2 tsps. baking powder
pinch of salt
1 tsp. almond extract
1 tsp. pink cake coloring
1 cup warm water
4 egg whites

Cream butter well, add sugar and cream again. Add flavoring and coloring. Measure flour before sifting, then sift and add salt. Add flour alternately with warm water and just before adding whites add baking powder mixed with a wee bit of flour. Then fold in egg whites. Bake in slow oven.

ORANGE SPONGE CAKE

1 cup sugar
1 cup flour
1 orange (juice and grated rind)

Sift sugar once and flour 4 times. Separate yolks from whites of eggs and beat yolks until stiff and creamy. Add ½ the sugar to yolks and beat 5 minutes. Add juice and rind of orange. Beat whites stiff and add other half of sugar, beat 5 minutes. Add yolk mixture to white mixture gradually. Fold in flour. Pour into angel cake tin and bake 45 mins. at 300 degrees.

British Wives Want Half Husbands' Pay

LONDON, March 11.—(Reuters)—Some British wives are campaigning for new laws entitling them to half their husband's bank accounts or pay envelopes after household bills have been met.

Their case, long supported by the Married Women's Association and the Professional Business Women's Club, will have a political airing for the first time when it is debated by the women's Liberal federation at their council meeting in Blackpool April 20 and 21.

Attractive Mrs. Doreen Gorsky, 35-year-old prospective parliamentary candidate for Swindon, Wiltshire, says the idea was hers and she would move a resolution that "a legal financial partnership should be created in marriage."

"Happy, comfortable wives with generous husbands will pooh-pooh the idea, but there is no getting away from it—there are some mean, miserable husbands about," she said, "They do not believe wives have a full-time job in the home. They forget that wives have in most cases given up good jobs to marry them and in so doing lose economic independence." Mrs. Gorsky, a doctor's wife, is the mother of four children.

"The husbands start their married life by giving their wives a housekeeping allowance, but some never increase it on the arrival of progeny. This plan would protect the ordinary working class wife should her marriage break up. It is only fair and it is about time there were laws about it. It will automatically decrease the number of non-support cases in court."

Other financial and political "inequalities" experienced by British women will be discussed by the Liberal women.

One resolution says that for taxation purposes a married woman should not be penalized by having her income assessed with that of her husband to their joint disadvantage, thus making them pay more than two single people living together. Mrs. Gorsky said many husbands opposed their wives entering industry for the export drive, despite government appeals, because the wife's pay raised them to the higher income brackets, forcing them to pay the full rate of nine shillings on the pound.

"Married women do not find it worthwhile to re-enter industry during the economic crisis for this reason and because often they do not receive the men's rate of pay," she said.

But one resolution benefits husbands. It says "women should become responsible for payment of their own income tax on their property, it being inequitable that the husband should be liable."

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Divorcee With Family Should Warn Suitor

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a mother of three girls, aged 9, 7 and 3, I divorced my husband two years ago because he was such a drunkard. I am 32 years old and a man 28 years old wishes to marry me. He is a hard-working man, thrifty, makes good money, and says he is willing to support my children and me. We are very congenial in our tastes.

But what puzzles me is that I am older than he is and have had ten years of married life, while he has never been married before. What do you think are the chances of success of such a marriage?

MAGGIE

ANSWER: The difference in your ages does not matter at all, but how a young father will react to having three children wished on him as a bridal present, is something to give you pause and make you do a lot of serious thinking.

As you know from experience children are an expensive luxury; what with their board and keep and their clothes and their schooling and their doctors' bills. Also, they are noisy and quarrelsome and very disturbing to the peace of all those who are unaccustomed to them.

So I think that you should in all honesty warn your suitor of what a handicap he will be shouldering if he marries you. Also, let him spend a day or two with the youngsters so he will get some idea of whether he can stand their racket or not. If he loves children, well and good; but if he is allergic to them, it is a bad bet for you to put yourself in a position where you will always be compelled to be refereeing the fights between your husband and children.

Your ten years of experience of married life should certainly have fitted you for getting along with a husband. So go to it if the young man is willing to risk the kids.

Govt. Will Study Subsidies on Gold

OTTAWA, March 11.—(CP)—Finance Minister Abbott said yesterday in the Commons that study of a bill providing for subsidies on gold production will be taken up as soon as approval is given the resolution authorizing the collection of the 25 per cent excise taxes that form part of the exchange conservation program.

He was replying to H. W. Herridge (People's CCF—Kootenay West).

Mannish Touch In Sport Togs

LONDON, March 11—(CP)—New look coats, suits and dresses may emphasize lines that are full and flowing, but today's slacks, shorts and bathing suits go to the opposite extremes.

Slacks and Jaeger's spring shows had a masculine look with a slight feminine twist. Cut neatly to the figure with masculine brusqueness of line, the legs were notably narrower than they have been for some time, giving a feminine slimness to the leg. Checks, tartans and Bedford cords were favored.

Brightly cheerful were the Buchanan tartan slacks in the same style with ¾-sleeved jersey of bright yellow wool.

Jerseys had wide sleeves narrowing to the waist or three-quarter length, straight necklines and the vertical sloppy-Joe look with turned-up bottoms. When jerseys were not worn over the slacks cummerbunds were the order of the day, in self or contrasting colors.

Knee-length and calf-length trousers also were used in these and the slacks turn-ups were most popular. Bolero and box jackets were used to complete the ensemble.

A full, slope-shouldered, white box jacket with a vertical blue stripe and turn-up bottom was worn over a very brief, masculine cut, white shorts also having turn-up bottoms.

The normal width in leg was shown in black and white check that conveyed the impression of ease and comfort. With other designers the normal width was the popular one and linen was favored a great deal.

A linen slack in a tan with normal leg width, narrow waistband, very slight stomach gathering and turn-ups was combined with a mustard blouse of the same linen by Lacta Ramage.

Formal bathing suits were designed to complement the bull-in brassiere. Beach robes had full skirts, occasional stand-up collars and wide sleeves.

Striping was popular in the suits —horizontal, vertical, diagonal, herringbone, jazz, or seawave. Patterning was often created by panelling the stripes in various different ways. One elastic white satin suit had a vertical gold lame stripe and front skirt.

"Rage" was the suggestive name of a slimming, dark blue suit with white bobble trimming which had a large bobble-trimmed hat, beach robe and bag to match.

Reminiscent of a deck chair was the vertical striped pink and white suit with short self-colored frill on front skirt, back leg and brassiere.

"Flirtation," a sky-blue suit with horizontal cut rib, front skirt and tie belt could be worn strapless.

Skirts were used in front only, belts were narrow, tied in front, materials plain or ribbed in wool, elastic in satin.

Stripes were occasionally created by stitching, and floral designes were used both in wool and satin.

SCIENCE has proved there are certain food elements everyone needs for health. If there aren't enough of them in a child's food, serious things can happen—such as stunted growth, soft bones, poor teeth, faulty nerves, loss of appetite, defective eyesight.

Ovaltine supplements the diet with elements frequently deficient in ordinary foods. Three servings of Ovaltine furnish a significant portion of a child's daily requirements of Vitamins A, B1, C, D, Riboflavin (B2), and Niacin and Minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron.

In addition it provides the basic food substance—complete proteins to build muscle, nerve and body cells —high-energy foods for vitality and endurance. It thus acts as an insurance against food deficiencies that retard normal growth.

So if your child eats poorly, is thin, underpar, perhaps nervous, why not try delicious Ovaltine for normal growth and better appetite.

FIRST BIG CHANCE TO RULE

Elizabeth to Head State Council in King's Absence

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM

LONDON, March 11.—(AP)—Princess Elizabeth will get her first big chance to "rule" the British commonwealth when her parents visit Australia and New Zealand early next year.

She will head a council of state, comprising four or five members, chosen to act for the King while he, Queen Elizabeth and Princess Margaret tour the "down under" dominions.

The British family round the world view the Royal visit as a further move to strengthen commonwealth ties in tremulous times. At the same time it regards as significant the King's wish that Princess Elizabeth remain in London as his chief deputy.

It will be her most important and extended experience in practical affairs of state.

SENIOR MEMBER

As heiress presumptive to the throne, Elizabeth will serve as senior member of the council. She sat on such a Royal panel once before, but only briefly, in the summer of 1944 when the King made a wartime visit to Italy. She was then only a few months past her 18th birthday, legal age for Royal heirs.

Her husband, Prince Philip, cannot be a counsellor. Under the law, only the wife or husband of a sovereign, the heir presumptive and others of legal age next in direct succession may form the regency.

Those eligible to join the Princess are the Duke of Gloucester, the King's younger brother and third in succession; the Princess Royal, the King's widowed sister; and her two sons, Viscount Lascelles and Gerald Lascelles.

Three of these—the Duke of Gloucester, the Princess Royal and her elder son—were state counsellors during the South African tour last year.

Athletic Association Endorses Two War Memorial Projects

RED DEER, March 11.—The Red Deer Athletic Association on Tuesday night at its first meeting of the new term by unanimous resolution empowered the executive to pursue study of the advisability of engaging a Y.M.C.A. secretary or supervisor and the establishing of a Y.M.C.A. in Red Deer. This action was taken following a review by President J. A. Lampard of investigations carried on to date in an effort to secure a fully qualified supervisor.

Clark Ready, general secretary Y.M.C.A., Edmonton, was present, and spoke on work of the "Y". He outlined the organization, various phases of program and general operation of the movement in different places. Work of a supervisor in a community such as Red Deer was touched on and Mr. Ready answered a number of questions following his talk.

The meeting also endorsed a resolution favoring construction of a swimming pool as proposed by the Red Deer city council, and favoring a combined gymnasium-auditorium, both projects being embodied in the first steps of a war memorial for Red Deer. Passage of this followed reports by Dr. W. B. Parsons, chairman of the association's war memorial committee, and A. Houston, chairman of a joint committee of the Red Deer war memorial committee and the city council, working on the proposals.

Accused Girl Admits Visit to Murder Scene

CALGARY, March 11.—(CP)—Bernice Dubensky, 20-year-old Calgary girl charged with the murder of Charles Mah Wing, admitted to detectives that she visited the middle-aged Chinese tailoröS shop in East Calgary on the morning of the day he was murdered, evidence presented at a preliminary hearing into the charge disclosed yesterday.

Sgt. Detective Ken Meiver said he had taken a statement to that effect from the woman following her arrest Feb. 17 for the June 25, 1947, murder.

TROUSERS EVIDENCE

The witness testified that Miss Dubensky claimed a pair of trousers she was wearing at the time of her arrest had come through the mail from a friend. Earlier evidence showed that a similar pair of trousers had been left at the tailor shop and had not been found when the room was searched.

Absent from court yesterday was Melville Simpson, 65, who earlier had testified that Miss Dubensky had confessed responsibility for the crime to him. Letters from Simpson to the accused woman threatening to turn her over to police were read in court Tuesday.

The trial is continuing.

City Schools Not Planning Short Course

Alberta department of education is not considering shortening school term in Alberta, it was stated yesterday by Dr. W. H. Swift, deputy minister of education.

Dr. Swift was commenting on a report from Calgary Wednesday that a shorter course will be advocated at the annual general meeting of Alberta Teacher's Association March 29-31.

Dr. Swift also said a recommendation concerning revision of courses is a matter always under consideration.

Government doesn't concern itself with resolutions until they are passed by an organization and made as a recommendation to the department, he added.

R. S. Sheppard, superintendent of city schools, said the shorter course had not been discussed here as far as he knew.

JEWISH AGENCY BUILDING BLASTED

11 Jews Killed, 90 Hurt In Arab Bomb Attack

By ELIAV SIMON

JERUSALEM, March 11.—(BUP)—A wing of the Jewish Agency building was blown up today by explosives reported hauled in by a stolen U.S. consulate car still flying the American flag, killing 11 Jews and injuring about 90, a score seriously.

Jewish Agency officials blamed the destructive blast in the heart of Jerusalem near British headquarters in the King David Hotel on Arabs alleged to have used privileges as American consulate employes to cart the explosives to the scene.

The semi-official casualty list said six of the dead were identified. The bodies of the others, including one woman, were badly battered.

The dead included Leib Yafee, head of the Palestine Foundation Fund, and other prominent Jewish leaders.

Police issued search orders for two missing American consulate cars and an Arab driver who worked for the consulate. They sought a gray-green 1947 model Ford sedan, last believed driven by Anton Daud, Arab-born driver, and a green station wagon stolen Saturday. Daud was missing, and was reported implicated by witnesses.

Gershon Hirsch, Jewish Agency official, was injured slightly.

Blast shattered the wing of the U-shaped building occupied by the Vadd Leumi section of the Jewish Agency, or the National Council of Palestine Jews.

Nearby buildings were damaged, some badly, and windows were shattered within a radius of half a mile.

The Hagana defence force corded off the area and rescue squads swarmed over the wreckage, digging for the dead and wounded.

Russia Won't Sit With Arabs, Jews

Walkout Threatened if Rival Factions Invited to Conference

NEW YORK, March 11.—(AP)—Russia threatened today to walk out of the big power Palestine talks if the Jews and Arabs were invited to take part in the discussions.

Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko reputted a new American attempt to call the Arabs of Palestine and the Jewish Agency before the big power conferees.

Gromyko said he could not participate if the Jewish and Arab representatives or U N Palestine Commission were brought in for consultation. He said Jewish-Arab conciliation efforts in the past had failed.

TO LEAVE PALESTINE

At the third big-power conference, held in the New York offices of the United States delegation, Sir Alexander Cadogan, Britain's representative, reiterated his government's intention to terminate the mandate May 15 and to leave Palestine.

Cadogan also said he personally felt no modification of U N Assembly's 1947 partition plan would be accepted either by the Jewish Agency or the Arab Higher Committee for Palestine.

No final decision was taken on whether the Jewish Agency and the Arab Higher Committee would be invited despite Gromykoa opposition. This question was left open.

Treaty Nears Completion

BRUSSELS, March 11.—(AP)—A delegate said the drafting committee of the five-power conference today completed editing the full text of a western European union treaty.

Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg have been conferring for a week on a proposed political, economic and military union.

Pierre Elvinger, Luxembourg member of the drafting committee, said the treaty has 10 articles and a preamble.

A plenary session of the conference was convened again late today to consider the draft.

Conference officials said "only two or three points" remain to be settled. All predicted agreement on these before the delegates leave the conference table at the end of today's session.

Spokesmen said an official treaty text will be ready tonight or tomorrow morning.

One of the things left for decision today is a new last-minute proposal of unspecified nature brought from Paris yesterday by Jean Chauvel, secretary-general of the French foreign ministry.

Another is believed to be the detailed procedure for passing upon applicants for membership in the union under discussion.

ST. PATRICK 'IMSELF WOULDN'T LIKE IT

NEWARK, N.J., March 11.—(AP)—The McGoverns say they'll not be marching at the tail end of the St. Patrick's parade again this year.

Frank McGovern, leader of the association of 250 members, said they had been promised first place in the parade after consenting to the tail position in 1947.

Parade officials, however, said they had agreed only that each unit would move up one place in line. McGovern said it was not enough and announced last night he was withdrawing his association from the parade.

"No McGovern," he said, "ever finished last two years in a row."

3 of Opposition Oppose Government

Only three members of opposition rose during division Wednesday to oppose legislative approval of a resolution asking the federal government to call a Dominion-Provincial conference for the settlement of terms of a new tax-transfer agreement, while 59 government members supported it.

Vote followed a stormy one-hour address by Hon. Lucien Maynard, sponsor of the resolution, who closed the debate.

A. Davison (Ind-Calgary), J. Percy Page (Ind.-Edmonton) and Harper Prowse (Army), Alberta Liberal leader, were the only three to oppose the government forces.

Though he had taken sharp issue with Attorney-General Maynard during debate, Elmer E. Roper, and A. J. E. Liesemer, who had tendered an amendment Tuesday, both stood up with government members.

Division was demanded by a block of 14 government members, who rose to ask for a division after the speaker had declared following a voice-vote that the resolution had carried.

Czech House Supports Reds

By A. I. GOLDBERG
From AP and BUP Dispatches

PRAGUE, March 11—Czechoslovakia's Communist government obtained a unanimous vote of confidence in Parliament today as it prepared a state funeral for Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk.

Thus, in two weeks and two days after the seizure of power, Communist Premier Klement Gottwald has tied up parliamentary approval for the program for which he had battled since last summer.

When Chairman Josef David called for the confidence vote, all the 233 deputies present raised their hands. The Parliament has a normal membership of 300.

FUNERAL SATURDAY

Jan Masaryk's state funeral will be Saturday. He will be buried beside his father, founder and first president of the Czechoslovak republic.

Masaryk's body lay in state today in Cernin Palace, the foreign office building, while citizens of Prague grieved under black flags flown at half-staff.

A government announcement said Masaryk will be buried with full military honors at Lany cemetery beside the graves of his mother and father.

Plans for the funeral include a three-mile procession from the pantheon of the national museum building, at the head of Wenceslaus Square in the heart of Prague, to the palace.

Gottwald will deliver the main address at the state ceremony in Prague, it was announced.

GUSTAV'S DEATH RUMOR DENIED

PARIS, March 11.—(Reuters)—The Swedish embassy officially denied a rumor which swept Europe this morning that King Gustav of Sweden had died.

"We expect His Majesty to arrive in Paris at the Gare du Nord about half past four this afternoon," an official said. "He will drive to the embassy for dinner and leave tonight by train for Nice."

The 89-year-old King crossed the Belgian border into France at noon today en route to the south of France for a vacation.

Arab Orders Martial Law

IN NORTHERN PALESTINE, March 11.—(AP)—Martial law has been decreed in all Northern Palestine, effective at dawn today, by Fawzi Bey Al Kaukji, Arab commander.

"Every order from this headquarters will now become the law of the land (Northern Palestine) for civil and military alike," Fawzi Bey declared last night.

His headquarters said prisons now are being established in the mountain-top village where Fawzi Bey has set up his command. Several persons already have been arrested and are awaiting trial before military courts, which officers said will begin sitting soon in all major towns and cities of the northern Holy Land.

The Arab commander and his staff now are busy studying maps and intelligence reports in preparation to take the offensive against the Jews.

Lt. Gen. Albert Wedemeyer, former commander of U.S. troops in China, warns the House Foreign Affairs Committee in Washington that America "will pay in blood" unless steps are taken now to halt the march of Communism.

Cargo Trade Loss Feared by Shippers

VANCOUVER, March 11.—(CP)—A fear that cargo trade will be lost due to the strike of engineer and radio operators on Canadian deepsea ships was expressed by shippers today as pickets maintained posts along the waterfront.

Ten ships are tied-up in Vancouver and New Westminster as the wage dispute between operators and officers continued in its 10th day.

Some owners may have to charter space on foreign vessels to care for present commitments.

A cargo of rice aboard the freighter Lake Lillooet may be lost unless longshoremen are permitted to board the vessel.

Longshoremen have refused to pass picket lines, and now shipping officials seek special union permission to unload the cargo.

Price of Gasoline To Jump in B.C.

Two-Cents a Gallon Increase Effective at Midnight Tonight

VICTORIA, March 11.—(CP)—Premier Johnson today announced the retail price of gasoline will rise by two-cents a gallon throughout British Columbia at midnight tonight.

The premier's announcement is expected to end the current shortage of gasoline, caused by oil companies curbing imports of refined gasoline because they claimed they could not realize an adequate profit.

The announcement said that 1½ cents of the two-cent boost would go to the oil companies while the other half-cent would go to the service stations.

FIVE-CENT INCREASE

The increases announced today bring the total increase in the price of gasoline in B.C. this year to five cents a gallon.

The first increase in gasoline prices in six years was announced in January by Mr. Johnson. At that time the retail price of gasoline was boosted by three cents a gallon to cover the increase in the price of crude oil in California, source of almost the entire supply of British Columbia's oil.

Expenditure Plan May Be Protested

CALGARY, March 11. —(CP)—Calgary Property Owners' Association may ask for an injunction against city council to prevent it from making a capital expenditure without recourse to a money by-law in connection with a proposed low-rental housing project, Association Counsel S. H. Adams said today.

Yesterday council approved a proposal for the expenditure of civic funds for construction of 300 low rental homes by the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. The association contends that Calgary citizens should be given a chance to vote on the proposal.

Application Filed For Will Probation

CALGARY, March 11.—(CP)—Application has been filed for probation of the will of the late Frank R. Webster, prominent Calgary hotel man who died Feb. 19. The net estate is estimated at $406,824 with the bulk of the estate left to his widow, Mrs. Margaret E. Webster, and his daughter, Mrs. A. D. Davis, both of Calgary.

SOMETHING NEW IS NOW ADDED

IPSWICH, England, March 11. —(BUP)— John White, a local merchant tailor, announced today he had invented a man's shirt with built-in suspenders.

Cost of Living Bonus Rejected

OTTAWA, March 11. —(CP)—Finance Minister Abbott yesterday rejected representations from a Civil Service Federation of Canada delegation seeking a cost of living bonus of $31.50 a month.

Mr. Abbott told the delegation, led by F. W. Whitehouse, president, and G. Theriault, national secretary, that the government had already considered the principle of cost-of-living bonuses when it was dealing with post-war salary increases and had rejected it as unsatisfactory. Wartime experience had indicated that such bonuses tended to contribute to inflation and the government considered it undesirable to encourage their general use.

Yeggs Get $16 All in Silver

Break-in at the Alberta Flour and Feed company, 97 street and 105 avenue, Tuesday night netted thieves $16 in silver.

Safe in the office was left open and yeggs had ransacked the safe in a futile attempt to find money.

The $16 they took from a drawer in a desk. Entry was made by picking the front door lock.

$50,000,000 AID TO EUROPE ASKED

WASHINGTON, March 11.—(BUP)—President Truman today asked Congress to provide $55,000,000 additional stop-gap aid for Austria, France and Italy to tide those countries over until the European recovery program is enacted.

In a letter to House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., the president said "maintenance of a continuing flow of essential supplies to Austria, France and Italy is imperative for preservation of economies of these countries."

"There now is grave danger," he said, "that a break in the supply pipe line will occur between the end of the interim aid program and start of any program which could be authorized under European recovery legislation now being considered by Congress."

Senators' Rights Were Not Invaded

OTTAWA, March 11.—(CP)—The issue of the right of a cabinet minister to enter the senate to introduce legislation did not arise in the Red Chamber today.

A bill to amend the Canada Shipping Act—which Senator Wishart Robertson, government leader, said Tuesday he would ask Transport Minister Chevrier to introduce—was called but no action was taken.

Mr. Chevrier's introduction of the bill in the senate would be in accordance with a change the senate made in its rules last session.

Senator John T. Haig, Progressive Conservative leader, said Tuesday the rule change is "unconstitutional." No non-senator could speak without unanimous consent and if a cabinet minister entered the senate he would be "a stranger . . ., and I'll ask that he be removed."

Alaska Fur Seal Pact Profitable

OTTAWA, March 11.—(CP)—Canada's gross profit from the Alaska fur seal agreement with the United States has been nearly $3,500,000 in the last five years, the fisheries department disclosed in a written answer in parliament yesterday.

The 73,550 raw skins delivered to Canada by the United States under the agreement since 1943 have brought in $3,468,662 after processing at London and St. Louis. Normally, while Canada pays the processing costs, the United States delivers the skins free of cost at Seattle.

Friendship Pact Nothing to Russia Bevin Tells House

LONDON, March 11.—(BUP)—told commons yesterday it would be no use to ask Russia to live up to the Anglo-Soviet Friendship Treaty.

Answering Henry Strauss, Conservative, who asked whether Bevin had drawn Russia's attention to the fact its interference in the internal affairs of other states was contrary to article 5 of the Alliance, Bevin said:

"I have nothing to add to my statement of Jan. 22 (deploring Russia's arbitrary and unilateral action in affairs of other states). I cannot see that anything would be gained by invoking article 5 of the Anglo-Soviet Treaty in this connection.

Security Police Arrest Suspects

ATHENS, March 11.—(BUP)—Security police swept through the central Athens area last night, arresting 700 persons in a roundup of guerilla sympathizers. All except 135 were released after questioning.

Police said two of those detained will be tried by court martial and the other deported to island prisons. All had arrived in Athens recently from outlying areas of Greece, police said.

The roundup centred in Ommonia square. Suspects were picked up in cafes and restaurants.

Economic Freedom Needed Says Douglas

REGINA, March 11.—(CP)—Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan said last night people never would be entirely free until they had added "economic freedom to the political freedom we already have."

In an address prepared for broadcast over a provincial CBC network he said:

"Wherever the principal assets of our country are in the hands of monopolies and cartels we believe they should be owned by the people themselves."

Nova Scotia House To Begin Session

HALIFAX, March 11.—(CP)—Descendants of James Boyle Uniacke and Joseph Howe, the men who guided the "peaceable revolution" that made Nova Scotia the birthplace of responsible government in the British Empire will be in Province House here today when the legislature begins its first session in the 100th year of government by the people.

Last night domestics were busy polishing up the 130-year-old building that housed the first responsible executive council formed Feb. 2, 1848.

Produce Markets

POULTRY

The poultry market is rather inactive this week. Receipts are confined to light deliveries of fowl and are about adequate for immediate local demand. No outward movement is reported for this week except for light LCL shipments to Northern projects. All prices remain unchanged.

Live Chicken—First grade, over five pounds 22, under five, 20; second grade 22, under five 15. Live Fowl—First grade, over five pounds 18, under five 15; seconds, all weights 10.

Dressed Chicken—Over 4½ pounds, grade A milk-fed, 31; grade B, milk-fed, 29; grade B 27; grade C 20. Weight 4½ pounds and under: Grade A milk-fed, 28; grade B milk-fed, 26; grade B, 24; grade C, 17.

Dressed Fowl—Over 4½ pounds, grade A, 23; grade B, 21; grade C, 15. Weight 4½ pounds and under, grade A, 18; grade B, 16; C, 10.

Old roosters, dressed, all weights—Grade A, 14; grade B, 12; grade C, 9.

EGG MARKET

There is no appreciable change in the egg market this week. Receipts show a 4% decrease over last week. Deliveries to Registered Stations are being retarded by bad road conditions. This is also having its effect on the general quality, the percentage of Grade A for this week being 78% as compared to 80% last week. The market is firm and strong on all grades with all surplus moving into Special Products Board channels. During the week eight carlots moved into drying channels for immediate drying, and an additional three carlots moved into storage under the Fall Contract. Storing is being retarded due to the cold weather of the past two weeks as the majority of dealers participating are directing deliveries to dryers, considering the possibility of chilled eggs at this time. Retail demand is good, especially on Grade A Large. All prices remain unchanged.

Dealers quote country shippers, delivered Edmonton, for eggs: Grade A large, 37; A medium, 35; A pullet, 29, grade B, 31; C, 24.

Wholesalers quote retailers for loose eggs: A large, 43; A medium, 41; A pullet, 35; grade B, 37; C, 20.

Retailers to consumers, average price for loose eggs: Grade A large, 47; A medium, 46; A pullet, 40.

BUTTER PRICES

Wholesale prices for creamery butter, wrapped prints, are: First grade 67, second grade 63, third grade 59.

CREAM PRICES

Prices for cream delivered to Edmonton creameries (initial pool payments one cent less) basis per pound butterfat. Special grade 71, first grade 69, second 61, off-grade 56.

CANADIAN DOLLAR

NEW YORK, March 11.—(CP)—The Canadian dollar was up ⅛ of a cent at a discount of 10¼ per cent in mid-day foreign exchange dealings today. The pound sterling was unchanged at $4.03¼.

Continued progress was noted in the report of H. Milton Martin, president, at the annual meeting of shareholders of North West Brewing Co. Ltd. held here Wednesday. Improved facilities were forecast.

Barley and Oats Weak at Close

WINNIPEG, March 11.—(CP)—After scoring early gains, oats and barley futures prices declined in the last half of the session today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. General selling, prompted by the reaction of the Chicago market, came into the market here and prices closed at or near their lows.

Rye futures also scored early gains of as much as seven cents, but dropped off on commission house selling in late trading.

AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, March 11.—(AP)—A selling wave hit grains shortly before the close today and prices took a severe tumble. Activity on the board of trade expanded on the down slide, contrasting with the quiet market during earlier dealings.

Selling started first in corn. Brokers said it represented profit-taking and liquidation by discouraged holders. Stop-loss orders were uncovered on the break. Selling soon spread to other pits. Dealers said the market lacked resting orders to stem the downturn. The wheat market found no support from milling interests.

Close:

London Stocks

LONDON, March 11.—(CP)—British government securities today suffered a setback as the result of small but persistent selling on London Stock Exchange. Losses of up to ⅜ point were recorded with Consol 2½ per cent at 77⅝.

Elsewhere, although trading remained subnormal, there was a fair amount of selective interests which gave markets a firm appearence. Textile, steel and brewery shares were supported.

Rumors of a possible increase in the price of American crude oil brought a harder tendency to oil issues with Anglo-Iranian 1/32 point better at 7⅞.

Cinema shares improved on hopes that the new agreement between the British government and United States will enable the resumption of the sending here of American films.

Trend Is Upward In Paper Industry

Annual Financial Statements Disclose Improved Positions

By The Canadian Press

The strong financial position of the pulp and paper industry in Canada has been pointed up within the last few days by annual statements of several newsprint companies. In almost every instance these reports show sharply increased profits, expanded assets and improved working capital positions.

To use but three reports—Provincial Paper Ltd., net profits in 1947 were up 197 per cent over 1946, a jump from $355,170 to $1,055,511. Abitibi Power and Paper Co. profits last year were $8,563,046 as against $5,600,206 in 1946. Price Brothers and Co., Ltd., $6,118,897 in 1947 and $4,816,184 in 1946.

Canadian production of newsprint last year was at an all-time high of 4,396,000 tons of which more than 80 per cent went to the United States. The industry has experienced a sharper range of prosperity and depression than perhaps any other Canadian industry of comparable proportions.

CANADA'S TOP EXPORT

Newsprint prices, based on New York figures, ranged from the all-time high of $112 a ton in 1920, through a low of $40 between 1934 and 1935 (when much of the industry was in bankruptcy) to the current price of about $96.

Elliott M. Little, president of Anglo-Canadian Pulp and Paper Mills, Ltd., in Montreal earlier this week, presented an interesting picture.

"Amongst Canadian industry," he said, "pulp and paper stands first in production and in capital invested, and first as a buyer of goods and services. It constitutes by far the largest single item in our export trade; and last year brought home the bacon to the tune of close to half the United States dollars flowing from all Canadian exports to that country.

BIGGEST WAGE BILL

"In addition, pulp and paper employ more people and pays out more in wages than any other industry. It provides the highest weekly earnings and the highest annual earnings of any industry in Canada, and its total wage bill now exceeds $200,000,000 each year."

Continuing, he disclosed that although the cost of living index had increased 46 per cent at the beginning of last December, wages in the newsprint industry had increased by 93 per cent.

With pivotal grains at Chicago showing strength yesterday, stock markets turned steady. New York reported the first advance this week while Toronto and Montreal were steady to mildly better. Textiles in London turned in a good performance while goods improved. Cotton at New York closed about unchanged and livestock in Canada was firm with hogs at Toronto showing signs of higher prices.

Manitoba U. Board Comes Under Fire

WINNIPEG, March 11.—(CP)—Change in membership of the board of governors of the University of Manitoba was sought last night in the legislature by CCF Leader E. A. Hansford, who said the present board was not representative of the people of Manitoba.

His request stemmed from the resignation of Dr. A. E. Trueman as university president to accept a similar post with the University of New Brunswick.

Nothing had been done by the government to remedy the conditions causing Dr. Trueman's resignation, Mr. Hansford said.

Premier Stuart Garson replied that the board did represent the people of the province, with three members in particular being well qualified to represent rural interests, which the CCF leader had claimed were being neglected. The three named were D. G. McKenzie, chief commissioner of the Board of Grain Commissioners for Canada; W. J. Parker, president of Manitoba Pool Elevators; and H. S. Fry, assistant editor of Country Guide, a farm publication.

The opposition leader singled out the name of Victor Sifton, publisher of the Winnipeg Free Press and member of the university's board of governors, for special mention. He asked the house how long they thought "the gentleman in the press gallery would hold their jobs if their views did not coincide with those of the publisher."

OIL

Imperial Oil Limited has given the location of another wildcat with the announcement that Fedorah No. 1 is 75 per cent rigged. This well will be located on lsd 13-22-57-23, about two and a half miles northwest of Fedorah.

New wells announced for the Leduc area Imperial Leduc Nos. 48, 50, 51 and 54. All these wells are on locations near the centre of the known Leduc field.

Imperial Eyot is down to 3,556 feet and should be completed this month. Imperial Tofield is drilling at 2,433 feet. Imperial Leduc No. 9, successfully completed wildcat, is conditioning mud preparatory to being swabbed into production.

• • •

Some of the more conservative elements among Alberta's rural population view the arrival of drilling rigs in their neighborhood with extreme caution. Reasons for this attitude vary according to locality although a general distrust of the oil industry which was based on false rumors prevalent some years ago, is partly responsible.

There is reported to be a lack of enthusiasm among some residents of the Tofield area about the drilling rig in the locality. Years ago Medicine Hat was an industrial centre of the province and the most obvious reason was the abundance of natural gas. A group of individuals persuaded residents of the Tofield area that in return for investment in their organization Tofield would be provided with natural gas wells to back Medicine Hat off the map.

This was 37 years ago and some residents can still produce debentures, shares and bonds to prove it, but the gas well never materialized.

• • •

Indifference to drilling rigs is attributed to the fact that the average farmer never has been very concerned about mineral rights. When the province was settled the only known mineral known to exist in commercial quantities was coal and few farmers were interested even in it as a commercial proposition. As a result few have any direct financial interest in wells on their property except for the rental of right-of-way and a few acres around the rig.

Rumors that major oil companies have "capped" potential wells to keep the price of oil up are still current in some districts. Origin of these stories is uncertain but they may have resulted from confusing seismograph equipment and drilling rigs. In some cases oil soaked cores from a hole have led uninformed drill crew men to spread stories of oil wells when actually oil was never found in commercial quantities.

• • •

Companies which were exclusively engaged in the gold mining business are beginning to become actively interested in Central Alberta oilfields. Piccadilly-Porcupine Mines were the first company to engage in drilling a wildcat when they joined with Canadian Gulf to drill Marshall No. 1 ten miles west of Stettler. The well is now in the Devonian.

Lignora Gold Mines Limited joined forces with Hargol Oils Limited to drill in the Lloydminster field where they recently have had their first successful completion. The company has rights on property near Imperial Eyot No. 1 and is anxiously awaiting completion of that well in a few weeks time.

Aluminum Company Is Called Cartel Of Vicious Type

REGINA, March 11.—(CP)—The Aluminium Company of Canada and the Saskatchewan Education Tax came under fire in the provincial legislature here yesterday as the drawn-out debate on the budget continued.

Alvin C. Murray (CCF—Gull Lake) said the Aluminum Company was part of an international "cartel of the most vicious type" which had 22 subsidiaries in 50 countries.

In 1938, he said, the company had admitted it could manufacture aluminum for 8.39 cents a pound but during the Second World War had charged the government 16 to 17 cents a pound.

Marshall Plan Would Benefit All

CALGARY, March 11.—(CP)—If the Marshall Plan for Europe is adopted, producers, manufacturers and labor will benefit, Frank H. Hoefer of Lethbridge, Alta., president of the Retail Merchants Association of Alberta, said yesterday at the annual meeting of the provincial board.

Mr. Hoefer said he believed the tremendous amount of goods needed for implementation of the plan would keep business conditions in their present good state. About 35 members representing all sections of retail marketing attended the meeting.

Financial Review

TORONTO, March 11.—(CP)—Golds and industrials exhibited moderate weakness in continued quiet trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange today while base metals and western oils drifted without appreciable change. Trading generally was featureless with losses outnumbering gains for all groups listed. Volume was about 700,000 shares.

For the base metals Nickel and Noranda added fractions while Labrador, Sherritt and Silanco were down moderately.

• • •

MONTREAL, March 11.—(CP)—Industrials displayed fractional improvement in quiet dealings up to the final hour on the stock exchange and curb market today. Trading was light in mines and prices were narrowly lower.

Consolidated Smelting moved ahead ½ in a steady metal group. Sherrit-Gordon lost 10 cents.

• • •

NEW YORK, March 11.—(AP)—Softening commodities helped stem the recovery tide in today's stock market.

Moving pictures and aircrafts led an early fast upswing but most failed to hold and some were showing minor losses.

While small plus signs remained near the close, declines were numerous.

Dealings tapered after one of the speediest first hours of the past month. Volume, however, of about 900,000 shares was the largest since mid-February.

Amusements were buoyed by announcement of an Anglo-American film agreement. Aircrafts backed down following an early bulge on further talk of big government plane orders.

Professional bidding again was based mainly on the thought that the list had been oversold. Dividends and earnings were helpful.

Disturbing international affairs inspired some additional selling. Skeptics regarding business prospects, wages and taxes held aloof.

Canadian issues were inactive. Dome Mines added ⅛. Canadian Pacific eased ⅛.

TIM BUCK GETS "WET WELCOME"

PORT ALBERNI, B.C., March 11.—(CP)—Tim Buck, national leader of the Labor Progressive party, got a "wet welcome" at a meeting last night in the Legion hall.

He was the victim of a "booby trap", and was doused with eight buckets of water as he stepped to the platform. The water-filed buckets had been placed on a shelf rigged over the front of the platform. The trap was tripped by someone outside the hall pulling a "trigger string."

"Despite the inclement weather we are prepared to go on," Buck told the audience of 300. Later, three of the buckets were auctioned off.

Calgary Prepares For Minor Floods

CALGARY, March 11.—(CP)—Calgary residents today prepared for minor flooding conditions and slushy streets as warm westerly winds started temperatures climbing with above average mercury readings forecast for this afternoon.

A snowplow was sent out on the Banff road to clear a huge drift about three miles west of Morley, which blocked the road late Wednesday morning. Six cars were trapped in the drift and two vehicles, stuck in a smaller one about three miles east of Morley, were towed out by a Banff-bound Greyhound bus which was forced to turn back to Calgary. Greyhound lines resumed service to Banff this morning.

Formal Transfer Paper Ownership

GLACE BAY, N.S., March 11.—(CP)—Floyd Gates said here last night all shares of the Gazette Publishing Company were transferred Tuesday from district 26 United Mine Workers executive board to the new owners, a group of former employees.

Mr. Gates, editor of the Glace Bay Gazette, Canada's only labor daily newspaper and one of the new owners said the company would continue to be known by its old name, but the actual name of the paper would be changed within the next two weeks.

British Railroads Aid Mme. Peron

BUENOS AIRES, March 11.—(AP)—The government announced yesterday that Madam Peron, wife of Argentina's president, had received a cheque for $25,250 from British railroad interests in recognition of the wide program of social welfare she has undertaken. The money was from rail companies that recently relinquished their holdings in Argentina to the government for $600,000,000.

Irish Sweepstake Draw Is Started

DUBLIN, March 11.—(AP)—Drawings in the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes, based on the Grand National steeplechase to be run March 20 at Aintree, England, started today.

Officials announced total subscriptions were £1,790,176 ($7,160,704), a drop of £284,028 from the drawing of last October. A spokesman, Jack O'Sheehan, attributed the drop to present world economic conditions, particularly currency regulations.

The prize fund totals £843,400. There are 16 first prizes of £25,000, 16 second prizes of £10,000, 16 third prizes of £5,000, 1,008 horse prizes (on horses which fail to place) of £126, 640 cash prizes of £50, and 50 residual prizes of £868.

Sask. to Select Festival Winner From Seven Plays

REGINA, March 11.—(CP)—From seven one-act plays—including works of such poles-apart dramatists as Eugene O'Neill and William Saroyan—produced here this week by amateur drama groups, Robert Stuart, an English actor adjudicating all provincial drama festivals this year, will pick the play to represent Saskatchewan in Dominion drama festival competition.

A play by Robertson Davies of Peterborough, Ont., is the only Canadian entry in the three-day provincial festival which starts Thursday.

Four plays are entered by Saskatoon groups and two by the Regina Little Theatre which last year won the festival with Noel Coward's "Ways and Means."

Douglas Called Skunk; Sask. Liberal Named

REGINA, March 11.—(CP)—A. T. Proctor (L-Moosomin) was named in the Saskatchewan Legislature yesterday and ordered from the chamber for the balance of the sitting when he called Premier T. C. Douglas, a "stinking skunk" and refused to withdraw the remark.

He was ordered from the chamber by Speaker Tom Johnston after the house voted 43-4 to expel him for the rest of yesterday's sitting.

Mr. Procter had risen before the orders of the day to deny charges made in the legislature Tuesday by Premier Douglas who said the Liberal party established a dummy corporation in 1942 which "deprived" the provincial treasury of nearly $70,000 on sales of supplies to the government of former Liberal Premier W. J. Patterson.

PREMIER "A SKUNK"

"It is smears like this that have kept honest men out of politics," Mr Procter said. "The premier of this province is a stinking skunk."

After Mr. Procter twice refused to withdraw the remark, Provincial Treasurer C. M. Fines, acting government leader, again asked Mr. Procter to withdraw.

He said the government was willing to appoint a royal commission to investigate the charges or refer the charges to a special committee of the legislature or the public accounts committee.

"I won't withdraw," Mr. Procter said. "My honor has been impugned in this house and I'm the judge of that."

PIPES LEAK IN BEST OF FAMILIES

PORTLAND, Me., March 11.—(AP)—Philip Rueben, vice-president of the Maine Association of Master Plumbers, was 45 minutes late yesterday for the organization's 55th annual convention.

The reason: A leaking pipe in his home.

It happens in the best of families, said Rueben.

Fire Destroys Control Centre

LETHBRIDGE, March 11.—(CP)—Fire broke out at the Cowley intermediate airdrome, 55 miles west, Tuesday, destroying the airways building control centre.

A. L. H. Somerville, district airway engineer for the department of transport, said field lighting, power and water supply and the weather centre all were out of commission. The radio range did not go off the air and planes still use the field.

ONLY WAR CAN RID ROMANIA OF REDS

NEW YORK, March 11.—(CP)—Only war, former King Michael of Romania said yesterday, can rid his country of Communism under existing circumstances.

The ex-king said he still considers himself the right ruler of Romania.

"Under present circumstances, do you think there is any way of freeing your country from the Communists except by war?" he was asked.

He replied: "Not at present."

The former king and his mother were whisked to a New York hotel minutes after his liner docked. He was welcomed to New York by a crowd of some 500 standing outside Pier 90 among whom were pro-Communists carrying placards labelled: "Our republic greets the Romanian People's Republic," and anti-Communists bearing placards with the declaration: "Long live King Michael of Romania."

Canadian Imports From U.S. Increase

OTTAWA, March 11. —(CP)— Despite her "austerity" program, Canadian imports from the United States were higher in January than the previous month or in January, 1947, the bureau of statistics reported yesterday.

Total imports from all countries were $306,100,000 compared with $194,200,000 in December and $173,800,000 a year ago, while nearly 75 per cent of these goods—valued at $150,000,000—were imported from the U.S. This compared with $141,700,000 in December and $136,400,000 in January, 1947.

Total from the United Kingdom was $21,600,000 compared with $20,300,000 and $14,300,000.

Road-Clearing Work Held Up

CALGARY, March 11.—(CP)—A tightly packed and badly drifted stretch on the Gleichen-Cluny section of the No. 1 highway between Calgary and Medicine Hat is holding up road clearing work on several other lines, F. J. Graham, district engineer for the department of public works, said yesterday.

Calgary's Relief Costs Take Jump

CALGARY, March 11.—(CP)—Relief costs in Calgary during 1947 showed an increase of about 50 per cent over the previous year, relief department superintendent George Thompson said today. Cost of indigent relief for the year was $79,396.

Senate Leader Defends Exchange Saving Bill

OTTAWA, March 11.—(CP)—A charge that the government's exchange-conservation bill is "hostile to freedom of trade" was challenged in the Senate yesterday by Senator Wishart Robertson, government leader, who described it as a move toward economic stability.

Senator John T. Haig, Progressive Conservative leader, led off the criticism and later won support from Senator Arthur Roebuck (L., Ontario).

"No bill in the history of confederation was ever more hostile to freedom of trade than this one," said Senator Haig, speaking during debate on a motion for second reading. Three government policies had made the need for the bill "absolutely inevitable":

1. Canada had loaned or sold too many goods on credit to war-devastated countries.

2. Return of the Canadian dollar to parity with the United States dollar had reduced the flow of United States currency into Canada.

3. Free flow of the Dominion's natural products to the United States market had been halted by, among other things, the Anglo-Canadian loan contracts.

OPPOSED TO BILL

"This bill won't make conditions any better," said Senator Haig. "It may conserve a little money for the time being, but a lot more has to be done."

One solution would be to let currency "seek its own levels."

Senator Robertson said the government policy will tend toward stability, "the greatest attraction for investments coming into this country."

World Situation "Very Serious"

Communist Terror, War Fears Grave Says Secretary Marshall

WASHINGTON, March 11. — (AP) — State Secretary Marshall declared yesterday that the world situation is "very, very serious." He made it plain at a press conference that he was referring both to Communist expansion in Europe, including Czechoslovakia, and to what he called a "considerable passion" aroused in the United States by European developments.

He cited the death of Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk in Czechoslovakia as evidence that the Communist rule of that country is "a reign of terror."

WIDELY-FELT FEARS

He spoke after he had been asked to give his "assessment of the situation" which, he was told, includes widely-felt fears ranging from the possibility that Italy might fall to the Communists in the April 18 elections to talk of war.

Marshall replied:

"I think you correctly described the situation in your question—that there are great fears as to the developments. . . .

"The situation is very, very serious. It is regrettable that passions are aroused to the degree which has occurred.

TRAGIC HAPPENINGS

"It is tragic to have things happen such as just occurred in Czechoslovakia, particularly what has happened to some of the officials, as in the affair of the death of Jan Masaryk, all of which indicates very plainly what is going on.

"It is a reign of error in Czechoslovakia and not an ordinary due process of government by the people."

Authoritative sources said that in referring to "passion" Marshall had in mind a passionate desire on the part of many people to do something quickly—and not necessarily something that cold reason would approve.

No Reinforcements For Quebec Unit

OTTAWA, March 11.—(CP)—Gen. H. D. Crerar said in a letter concerning the dispatch of Canadian troops to Hong Kong in 1941 that it was "clear" the Royal Rifles of Canada, a Quebec City battalion, "could not be reinforced from its own territory."

The letter, part of the Hong Kong evidence tabled in the Commons yesterday, was written to Hon. J. L. Ralston, defence minister at the time. It was undated.

The general, then chief of staff, said he "preferred" that the Royal Rifles serve in a theatre of war where casualties were unlikely to be heavy or sustained.

While he described the Royal Rifles and the Winnipeg Grenadiers, the other Canadian battalion sent to Hong Kong, as "units of proven efficiency," the letter continued:

"In the case of the Royal Rifles there is also the fact that this very efficient (unit), while nominally English-speaking, is actually drawn from a region overwhelmingly French-speaking in character.

"I would prefer that it should serve in a theatre where casualties are not likely to be heavy or sustained. Clearly it could not long retain its character and identity in a main theatre of war for it could not be reinforced from its own territory."

$76,080 Is Raised In Calgary Drive

CALGARY, March 11.—(CP)—A total of $76,080 has been contributed to the Calgary Community Chest-Red Cross drive, campaign officials reported yesterday as the half-way mark was reached in the three-week drive. Officials said they were confident of reaching the $225,000 objective.

NICE NEWS FOR TIPPLERS AT COAST

VICTORIA, March 11.—(CP)—There is a new kind of drink in British Columbia's north country called "Kennedy's Popsicle."

W. D. Smith, coalition member for Atlin, told about it in the B.C. legislature yesterday.

He said B.C. liquor is so low in alcohol content that when trappers and prospectors carry it on the trail it freezes, breaks the bottle and is lost.

"One man however, when he found his bottle broken, removed all the broken glass and then licked his Kennedy Popsicle to complete enjoyment."

There was no immediate comment from W. F. Kennedy, chairman of the liquor control board.

Britain to Export More to Canada

LONDON, March 11. —(CP)— British government hopes to increase sales to Canada from £40,000,000 ($160,000,000) in 1947 to £70,000,000 in 1948, it was learned yesterday.

An informed source predicted an all-out drive to increase exports to the Dominion to enable Britain to buy essential foods.

Discussing the sombre economic survey white paper made public by the government yesterday, the source said it was hard to see how the present level of food purchases could be continued without Marshall plan aid but that Britain intended to export to the utmost and to pay for the greatest possible share of Canadian goods.

"I do not anticipate a reduction in food purchases from Canada if the Marshall plan goes through," the official added.

The three-month financial agreement with the dominions ends March 31 and "it is hard to see how we will be able to continue it without Marshall aid."

The official said that United States dollars were needed urgently to finance future purchases of Canadian wheat and other essential food supplies.

Rebel Amendment Defeated in House

LONDON, March 11.—(Reuters)—A rebel labor amendment to a government bill providing for the handing over of the Palestine mandate was defeated last night in the House of Commons by 240 votes to 30.

The bill was read a second time and agreed to in principle without a division.

The amendment had criticized the government on the ground that its Palestine policy undermined the authority of the United Nations.

Barbara Ann Will Skate in Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, March 11. —(CP)— Barbara Ann Scott, Canadian winner of the Olympics, European and World figure skating championships, will perform here April 3 in a special production under auspices of the Winnipeg Winter Club.

The announcement, made by club officials last night, said Miss Scott's appearance here will follow performances to be given at Brandon, Man., April 1-2.

COMMUNISTS PLAN BIG LABOR PROTEST

By Norman Montellier

ROME, March 11. — (BUP) — Southern Italian Communists today called upon labor to demonstrate Sunday in protest against police intimidation of voters in Puglia province.

Authorities feared the protest meetings might be a prelude to a general strike, with the Communists using the 6,000,000-man general labor confederation they control as a campaign weapon for the April 18 national elections.

The Communist order for a show of force followed the arrest of 104 Labor union leaders and members charged with responsibility for three riots in the Puglia region last November.

Bevin Declines Invoke Article Of Soviet Pact

LONDON, March 11—(Reuters)—Foreign Secretary Bevin yesterday declined to invoke article five of the Anglo-Soviet ollience, in which the contracting powers pledged themselves to the principle of "non-interference in the affairs of other states."

Conservative Member Henry Strauss said in the House of Commons that the Soviet government had violated this clause of the treaty.

Bevin replied that he had nothing to add to his speech in January when he accused Russia of arbitrary action in these matters.

Original uncertainties about how tea should be consumed led early New Englanders to eat the leaves with butter and throw the brew away.

Demand for Coup Probe Is Shelved

LAKE SUCCESS, March 11.—(AP)—The United Nations last night shelved a letter from the Czechoslovak chief delegate demanding a Security Council investigation of the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia.

UN officials said that Secretary-General Trygve Lie acted after consulting with members of the UN legal department, the department of Security Council Affairs, and Dr. T. F. Tsiang, of China, president of the Security Council for this month.

"After consultations, the secretary-general found it (the letter containing the demand) a non-governmental communication and it will be treated in accordance with rules of procedure of the Security Council as such."
